Democrats Nominate Moore; Slack Wins Republican Race

Only 1,657 Votes Cast In Primary

Ralph W. Williams, Smith, Jenkins, Fralich Win Races

George W. Moore of 702 Girard Ave. won the Democratic nomination for mayor and William G. Slack was elected the Republican nominee for president of City Council in the only city-wide contests in Tuesday's primary election.

The vote was one of the lightest in recent years with only 10 per cent of the registered voters turning out. Republicans cast 1,059 votes and Democrats 598 for a total vote of 1,657.

Moore, a machinist for the Osgood Co., was opposed for the nomination by Claire E. Dye of 430 Windsor St., a television and electronics technician. He won with a 319-249 margin.

Slack won the nomination over Herman Miller of 266 Silver St., a foreman for the Motor Products Corp. Slack, the incumbent council president, polled 720 votes while Miller had 304.

Moore will oppose Mayor Harold F. Robinson in the general election next November. Robinson will be seeking his third term as mayor. The incumbent mayor was unopposed for the Republican nomination. He polled a complimentary vote of 918.

Moore carried 18 of the city's 30 precincts. Dye carried 11 and one precinct gave each candidate 11 votes. The tie was reported in Precinct C of the Fifth Ward. Moore also carried four of Marion's six wards. He won the First, Second, Third and Fourth Wards while Dye carried the Sixth. The Fifth Ward voters gave each 43 votes.

Ships Collide In North Sea, 500 Rescued

Bow of British Steamer Sliced Off By U.S. Transport

HARWICH, England (AP) — Two American ships brought hundreds of passengers to safety today from a British steamer sliced through in a predawn collision with an American transport in the North Sea.

Survivors were landed here and at Dover after a quick transfer of passengers 40 miles off Harwick on England's East Coast averted a major sea disaster. But a woman and possibly a child were reported still trapped in the listing steamer.

All of the passengers—most of them British Army families returning home from Germany—were from the 4,190-ton Duke of York.

The steamer, bound from the Hook of Holland to Harwich, and the 7,607 - ton American transport Haiti Victory rammed into each other near Galloper Light Ship. The Duke of York had 437 passengers aboard and crew of 72, officials said.

The Haiti Victory brought the bulk of the passengers ashore here despite a yawning eight-foot gash in her bows six feet above the waterline. She had the Duke of York in tow for a while but that task was taken over later by tugs at the scene.

The 10,687-ton American-Hawaiian Steamship Co.'s vessel, The American, took 91 survivors aboard and hurried to Dover with them Four were reported injured seriously.

Survivors crowded the decks of the Haiti Victory as she came slowly into the harbor at Harwich.

U.N. Negotiator Reports 'Zero' Progress in Talks

Embracing his wife, Frank Raboski (center) is surrounded by loyal neighbors and friends who put up their homes to make the $35,000 bond for the release of the crime-fighting official wanted in California as a jail breaker. Raboski, treasurer of the Northlake, Ill., crime commission, was unmasked by the FBI as Cornelius Pystch, 49, a parole violator in New York and a fugitive from a California charge. New York later waived any claim to him.

Reds Insist POWs Must Leave Korea

Reject U.N. Proposal To Liberate Koreans After Truce Is Signed

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A U. N. truce negotiator today said "zero" progress had been made toward a Korean armistice after the Reds rejected a proposal to free 32,000 North Korean prisoners who refuse to go home after a truce is signed.

The Reds again ignored the Allied nomination of Pakistan as neutral custodian of 48,500 prisoners who refuse to return to their Communist homelands.

Instead, Gen. Nam Il charged the Allied proposal was "void of reason" and "unworthy of refutation." He reiterated the Red demand that balking captives be shipped to a neutral nation and that the functions of the neutral be ironed out before deciding anything else.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. suggested that the 32,000 North Koreans be freed immediately after a truce is signed and that they be given civilian status so they could settle anywhere in Korea.

Ohio House Receives GOP Road Program

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Republican leadership of the Ohio House finally offered a highway financing program today in a "package" of proposed new taxes to bring in 42½ million dollars a year.

The package recommended Tuesday night by the House Public Affairs Committee includes:

With the return to local governments of some 11 million dollars the law now earmarks for the highway department maintenance fund, it looks like about 32 million dollars a year will be added to highway funds."

The axle-mile tax is the keystone of the highway-financing program. It levies a per-mile tax on com-

Moore's biggest margin was made in the Second Ward where he polled 67 votes to 32 Dye ballots.

Carries Every Ward

Slack carried every ward in the city in the race for the GOP nomination for council president. His biggest margin was in the Fourth Ward where voters gave him a 131-46 margin.

Four other contests were on the primary ballot. All were contests for City Council seats.

Second Ward voters decided on a Democratic and Republican nominee. Democrat James Jenkins, incumbent councilman, won the nomination over John F. Williams. Jenkins polled 57 votes and his opponent 51. The winner carried three of the ward's five precincts and was given a 17-0 vote in Precinct E.

K. Maynard Smith won the Republican nomination in the Second Ward. He polled 65 votes to win over two opponents. George W Steinman polled 42 votes and George W. Lupica 15. Smith carried four of the five precincts with Steinman carrying the other.

Ralph W. Williams won the Fourth Ward fight for the Republican nomination to City Council Carrying all but one of the ward's five precincts, he polled 107 votes. The other precinct was carried by Walter V. Williams who polled 40 votes. John L. Davis was named on 29 ballots.

In the only other contest, Harold Fralich was successful in his bid for renomination as Republican candidate for Sixth Ward councilman. He polled a total of 210 votes while his opponent, Mrs Bertha Stewart, received 114. With the exception of Precinct F, the incumbent councilman carried all of the ward's six precincts.

The total vote set a near record low. Election Board officials today set the official vote total at 1,657 , approximately 10 per cent of the registered voters in the city.

Ohio Primary Election Small But Expensive

Light Turnouts Send Costs As High As 5.43 Per Voter

By The Associated Press

It was a small and expensive election for Ohio Tuesday. The off-year primaries drew record low turnouts in some communities and the cost per voter was high.

But the voters were in a money-spending mood. In most communities where money issues were on the ballot, they got the electorate's approval.

School bond issues passed in Union Twp. (Butler County), Uhrichsville, Bexley, Whitehall, Finneytown and Indian Hill (Hamilton County). Operating levies were approved in Portsmouth and Conneaut.

School expansion bond issues were turned down in Ada and Galion and Springfield decided it didn't want to spend any money for a new water system.

Many counties had only one or two contests. Highland County officials estimated it cost Hillsboro voters $1 each to vote in a Republican mayoralty primary. They estimated it cost $5.43 per voter for the Democratic primary for mayor in Greenfield.

Springfield's election for city commissioner cost $20,000 because seven instead of six men were candidates. If only six had run, a primary would have been unnecessary.

Of 21 cities tabulated by The Associated Press, 17 had only single elections, most of them for mayor, in one-party run-offs.

Steubenville voters surprised the experts by voting to change to a city manager type of government. The measure was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and opposed by professional politicians.

Winners in primary contests for mayor included:

Lima—Carl B. Horn and former mayor N. L. Ferguson (non-partisan).

Primary Cost $2.12 Per Vote

Estimated cost of conducting Marion's primary election yesterday has been set at $3,515 by the Board of Elections.

With 1,657 voters casting their ballots, this amounts to $2.12 per voter.

Precinct workers in the 30 precincts in operation yesterday will be paid $2,220. The cost of printing the ballots came to $525, election supplies $480, rental of polling places $177, and $113 was spent in setting up the polls for the election.

Not included in the $3,515 estimated election cost are election board employees' salaries, the board members pointed out.

Sketches Of Candidates For Mayor

Incumbent Mayor Harold F. Robinson, Republican, will be opposed by George W. Moore of 702 Girard Ave. for the position as mayor at next fall's election.

Moore won the Democratic nomination in Tuesday's primary election. Robinson was unopposed.

The Democratic candidate is a machinist employed by the Osgood Co. as a drill press operator. A native of Claiborne in Union County, he has made his home in Marion for 38 years.

Former operator of Moore and Son, tinning, roofing and spouting firm, he was employed by the Erie Railroad for several years. He also has worked at the Fairfield Enginering Co. and has been engaged in grocery business in Marion.

He is the father of six children, two married daughters, two married sons, one son at home and one son serving with the Navy in Korean waters.

Mayor Robinson will be seeking his third term as mayor. A veteran of many years' political experience, he was unopposed for the GOP nomination.

Mayor Robinson served for 15 years as a member of the Marion County Republican Central Committee and for two years on the Marion County executive committee. He served for eight years as a member of City Council before seeking the mayor's post four years ago.

Robinson makes his home at 241 N. Greenwood St. and is an electrical contractor. He is the father of five children, two married sons, two daughters at home and a son serving with the Air Force in Korea.

her damage appeared superficial to that suffered by the Duke of York. Everything forward of the superstructure had disappeared on the Duke of York. Capt. R. B. Adams, her master, and a skeleton crew of 15 remained aboard to work the vessel, which was reported taking some water.

Some Americans were among the survivors brought here. They included Brig. Gen. Hammond McDougal Monroe of the U. S. Army and his wife and Lt. Thomas Ferraro, a U. S. Air Force physician.

Ferraro gave this account:

"People were screaming in the darkness. There were shouts of 'abandon ship' and 'we're sinking.' The women and children were put in the lifeboast first but the boats were so overcrowded that they couldn't be rowed and just drifted helplessly, waiting to be picked up. We picked up an injured German from the sea. He was floating in the water, groaning."

Jack Rote, 26, an Amsterdam timber mercahnt, gave this account when he landed here:

"The sea was calm. So was the weather. Everybody behaved pretty well and there was no panic. The crew of the Duke of York shephered us into lifeboats and we were lowered to the water. We just rowed around for about 15 minutes until we were picked up by the Haiti Victory."

Dan Bellamy, a Londoner and a member of the RAF, said: "There was a lot of noise and some very narrow escapes, but everything was pretty orderly . . . ."

Many survivors brought ashore at Dover still were in night clothes. They had wrapped themselves in blankets.

Dirkzwager's Agency in Rotterdam said the steamer radioed: "Have located trapped woman and child. Can you bring heavy rescue gear. Suspect badly injured." An earlier message from the ship said only one passenger was trapped in the wreckage left by the collision.

A lifeboat from Walton-on-Naze and a tug from Harwich put to sea. Nearby ships in the North Sea rushed to the scene of the collision.

For a time the crew of the Duke of York made preparations to abandon ship. Much of the vessel forward of the bridge was gone. Later the tow attempt was decided on.

The sea in the area was reported calm, with light, broken clouds overhead.

Lists Four Ohioans As Fellow POWs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A notebook smuggled out of North Korea by a repatriated Philadelphia POW lists the names of four Ohio men who were his fellow prisoners.

The notebook, property of Pvt. James J. Coogan, lists these Ohioans still in a Communist prison camp: Harry F. Micey, Cleveland; Donald E. Frazee, Dayton; Donald Riley, Toledo, and Chuck Glazia, Lowellville, Mahoning County.

gress how much it intends to spend on foreign aid in the year beginning July 1.

Byrd thus brought into the open a backstage effort Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) was reported making to hold spending by the Mutual Security Administration (MSA) in the next fiscal year below this year's level.

Secretary of State Dulls and MSA Director Harold E. Stassen faced searching congressional questioning today on the administration's request for $5,828,000,000 in authority for new appropriations.

President Eisenhower, in a special message to Congress, called the program a bulwark for U. S. defenses against a threat of Soviet aggression.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey testified yesterday that the program for the next fiscal year calls for more spending than that—financed in part out of funds Congress already has voted—but he didn't fix any figure.

Report Atomic Plane, Carrier Plans Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Post said today the Defense Department has decided to suspend its projects for development of atomic powered airplanes and aircraft carriers.

Precise reasons for the decision were not clear, the story said, mentioning that 10 to 12 million dollars already has been spent on the effort.

But defense officials were quoted as saying in private conversations the action is in line with general economy moves and the over-all program of stretching out the time for raching full reamrament goals.

Thus, the officials said, the start on an aircraft carrier with atomic power, once scheduled for the fiscal year 1955, might be put off for a couple of years but not abandoned.

The Post suggested, however, that a different reason seems to have been hinted by Roger M. Kyes deputy secretary of defense, in closed-door testimony to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee last week.

The story said Kyes is reported to have told the committee the development of atomic aircraft and naval vessels would go faster if there were more and freer participation by private industry, and that whatever time is lost in suspending the projects now would be made up later by more vigorous operations by free enterprise.

RED MANEUVER PLANNED

BERLIN (AP) — The U. S. High Commisison newspaper Neue Zeitung said today the Soviet Union is planning big fleet maneuvers on the Baltic Coach this summer with Germans and Poles taking part.

1. An axle-mile tax on big trucks estimated to yield 19½ millions a year.

2. A penny-a-gallon increase in the present 4-cent state tax on gasoline and diesel fuel.

3. Submission to the voters next November of a constitutional amendment authorizing sale of 750 million dollars' worth of bonds to finance construction of needed highways in the next 10 years.

The House Highways Committee is expected to recommend soon reenactment of temporary truck tax license tag increases originally imposed two years ago . Those increases produce eight to nine millions a year.

As a means of helping finance the highway programs of city, township and county governments, the Public Affairs Committee also recommended passage of a bill to take away from the highway department about 11 million dollars it now gets from motor vehicle license fees and distribute the money to local governments.

After the committee's rapid-fire actions which sent the long-waited GOP highway program to the House floor, its chairman, Rep. Roger Cloud (R-Logan) commented:

"This is substantially the program we started out to achieve—40 million dollars plus in new money for highway construction.

Stop Issuing Permits For Septic Tanks

Issuance of septic tank permits for proposed new homes in Claridon Heights addition has been suspended until sanitary conditions in that area have been improved, H. Clay Smith, chairman of the Marion County Health Board, reported.

Claridon Heights addition is located east of Merchant Ave., south of Indiana Ave., north of Route 95, and west of Kensington Pl. In addition, a small area east of Kensington Pl. is also included in the permit suspension, Marion County Sanitarian Ralph Augenstein said.

Lack of surface drainage in the area was given as the reason for the suspension, in an effort to prevent a health danger from forming for the residents of the addition.

Construction of a storm sewer to permit surface drainage would remedy the situation, the sanitarian said, and would enable his office to resume issuance of the permits.

A storm sewer would have to be petitioned for by landowner of the addition and presented to the Marion County Commissioners for their consideration.

A total of 13 septic tank permits in Marion County were issued in April by Augenstein, it was indicated in his monthly report submitted to the Marion County Health Board at its regular meeting Saturday in the Courthouse.

mercial vehicles with three or more axles.

It starts with a half-cent-a-mile tax on single-unit trucks and big buses with three axles, jumps to 1 cent a mile on three-axle tractor-trailer combinations, 1½ cents a mile on four-axle rigs, 2 cents a mile on five-axle combinations and hits a top rate of 2½ cents a mile on rigs with six or more axles.

The axle tax is in use in only one state—Florida. The Ohio House leadership apparently was headed in the direction of a weight-distance tax until Cloud came up with the axle tax proposal a week ago.

The theory of the two taxes is approximately the same: Place a tax on big commercial vehicles in proportion to their weight and the distance they travel.

The House probably will vote on all pending highway proposals the same day. The likely date is next Wednesday.

Set Hearing Over Elevator At Courthouse

In an open hearing starting at 10 o'clock tomorrow, Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith will hear evidence on a motion requesting the court's review of Courthouse facilities.

Filed April 16 by a committee of the Marion County Bar Association, the motion further requests that the Marion County Commissioners be required to "furnish all the rooms and facilities proper and essential to the efficient performance of the functions of the courts of Marion County."

The court, in the Bar Association motion, is specifically requested to inquire into the necessity of an elevator to transport people from the first floor to the second and third floors of the Courthouse.

Persons having business in the Courthouse have long felt the need of a review of its facilities, and especially of the growing need for an elevator in the three-story building, a Bar Association committe reported after making a study of Courthouse needs.

A heavy flow of traffic, steadily increasing, to the third floor where the Common Pleas Court and the Clerk of Courts office are located, has been noted. The Bar Association committee was told of witnesses who have had to be carried up the two flights of stairs to testify in hearings in the court and of prospective jurors who have had to be excused from duty because of the stairs.

Members of the Bar Association committee, formed in January, are Paul D. Michel, William R. Martin, Robert A. Kelly and Howard F. Guthery.

The hearing is open to the public.

captives who refuse repatriation. Some observers speculated that the U. N. Command might be willing to listen to a compromise plan which would send Chinese to the neutral custodian while leaving Koreans in Korea.

The Reds want all 48,500 sent bodily to the neutral nation pending a decision as to their future. They insist that all will want to go home once their fears have been quieted by explanations.

The U. N. says the captives must remain in Korea under neutral supervision until they make up their minds where they want to go. Many POWs have vowed to kill themselves rather than leave Korea, the Allies said.

After Harrison made his proposal, the Reds took a one hour and 48 minute recess. Nam returned and rejected it in angry tones.

Allied spokesmen said the usually poker-faced Nam showed anger in his facial expressions and by speaking in short, clipped sentences.

He said Harrison failed to clarify questions the Communists posed Tuesday on how the neutral would operate. After Tuesday's meeting, Harrison called the Red questions "a negotiating smokescreen."

Nam said the Allies "had taken a step backward" in Wednesday's proposal "in an attempt to discard entirely the principle on which both sides have already agreed"—that a neutral be named to handle all balking prisoners.

"This proposal is entirely void of reason," he continued, "and yours side knows that our side would not consider it. Hence it is also unworthy of refutation."

Harrison said the Reds were simply using the same old stalling tactics.

"At the moment, I would say progress is zero," he said, but added he was not implying an armistice would not be reached.

Negotiators will meet again at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Harrison told newsmen the Red questions were an effort to draw Allied delegates into "interminable discussions on side issues."

He said, however, there was always a possibility the Communists were using the questions as a means to reach a compromise position.

He said that in such cases it was always necessary to keep a strict guard but also to leave the door "wide open" for further negotiations.

He said the latter was what the Allied delegation did Wednesday and that the Communists' answer was "no retreat from their previous position."

Harrison said the Communists have consistently refused to agree on a neutral nation and that this "causes us to be rather wary and cautious."

Harrison advanced his proposal on Korean prisoners at the outset of the session. He also called upon the Communists to agree on Pakistan.

Attorney Is Disbarred

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court today disbarred Attorney Jerome A. Nevius, former Clark County prosecutor.

The decision reversed an appellate court modification of the lifetime disbarment to a five-year suspension that expired last Dec. 1.

Common Pleas Court disbarred Nevius as an attorney for misconduct in ofifce, unprofessional conduct and conviction of a crime, all involving moral turpitude.

The Clark County Bar Association filed the charges against him following his conviction for accepting bribes in connection with operation of the former Silver Dollar gambling establishment in Clark County.

The Supreme Court said the appellate court erred in modifying the disbarment because Nevius' bribery conviction involved moral turpitude. The appellate court modified the disbarment on grounds the disbarment was not supported by clear and convincing evidence.

Six judges concurred. Judge Carl B. Zimmerman of Springfield did not participate.

Public Power Project Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has decided to sidetrack public in favor of private development of a big Western water project and congressional reaction ranges from approval to "turn the rascals out."

Secretary of the Interior McKay, making the announcement yesterday, said the Eisenhower administration will allow private enterprise to develop hydroelectric power wherever possible so long as it does not interfere with "proper development of natural resources."

McKay told a news conference he has decided to set aside, at least for the present, plans for a 560 million dollar federal dam at Hell's Canyon along the Oregon-Idaho border. The department, he said, will no longer oppose a substitute proposal by the privately owned Idaho Power Company to build for 23 million dollars the first of three dams on the Snake River in the same area.

ment officials asked 75 million dollars and surplus foodstuffs for the program, a reduction of $8,365,000 from the sum recommended by former President Truman.

Leonard R. Trainer, director of the food distribution branch of the Production and marketing administration, said this would mean children would have to pay "a little higher price" in some communities and some states might have to tighten up in determining which children were needy.

Chairman H. Carl Andersen (R-Minn) said he thought the program was the last place to make reductions unless they "can be very well substantiated."

Rep. Short Asks Aggressive U.S. Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Short (R-Mo) called today for a house cleaning of foreign policy officials "who lack the will to fight and win.'

He also said the U. S. should tell the Communists it will resist any invasion of Thailand by Red forces now slicing across Laos kingdom in Northern French Indochina toward the Thai border.

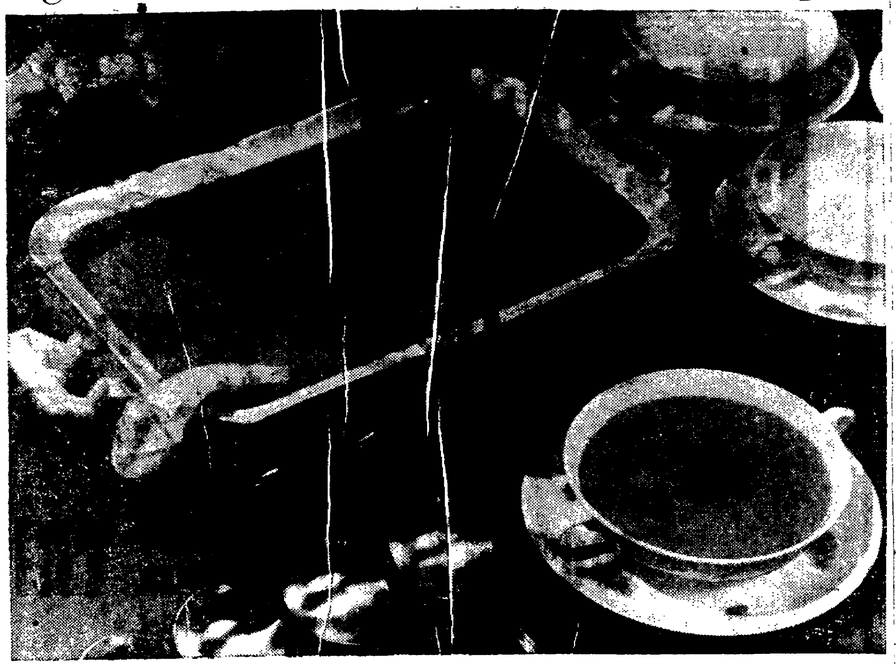
"We just simply have to call a halt" to Communist aggression, said Short, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

"We could do it, if we had some men in the right place. The people voted for a change. But there are too many hangovers who lack the will to fight and win."

DIES IN CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI (AP) — Archbishop Karl J. Alter of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati will officiate at a pontifical requiem mass Friday for the Rev. Augustine C. Adelmann, 85. Father Adelmann. Born in Germany, died at his residence here Tuesday.

Begin Outdoor Season With Tomato Bisque



When spring beckons, everyone is eager to move out-of-doors to enjoy the greening, blossoming landscape at closer range. A porch, terrace or patio is a blessing which should be enjoyed and shared as early as weather permits. Why not use yours for a supper party? This rosy tomato bisque offers a perfect start for such a festive occasion.

TOMATO BISQUE

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 cup milk, 1 cup water, 1-3 cup light cream, 2½ cups strained canned tomatoes, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons butter and 4 drops pepper sauce (optional).

Method: Combine quick-cooking tapioca, milk, water and cream in saucepan; mix well. Place over medium heat and cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and let stand about 3 minutes, stirring once or twice.

Meanwhile, combine tomatoes, sugar, salt and pepper. Bring to a boil. Add butter and pour slowly into tapioca mixture, stirring constantly. Add pepper sauce. Serve at once. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

If desired, 2½ cups canned tomatoes (broken up with fork) or 2½ cups tomato juice may be substituted for strained tomatoes.

Commencement At Claridon Will Be Held May 14

Commencement exercises for this year's Claridon High School graduating class will be held Thursday, May 14, at the high school auditorium.

The graduation address will be given by the Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church in Marion. His topic will be "Character Expansion."

Serving as salutatorian will be Marjorie Meister and the valedictorian speakers will be Jo Earl and Patricia Van Fossen. Diplomas will be presented by William Earl, president of the Claridon School board.

The Rev. Ralph Hollingsworth of the Claridon Methodist Church will present the sermon at that church in baccalaureate exercises, Sunday, May 10.

Asiatic Whirlwind

These are the words of Gen. Douglas MacArthur about Asians:

"Long exploited by the so-called colonial powers, with little opportunity to achieve any degree of social justice, individual dignity, or a higher standard of life. . . the peoples of Asia found their opportunity in World War II to throw off the shackles of colonialism and see the dawn of new opportunity, a heretofore unfelt dignity and the self-respect of political freedom.

"Mustering half of the earth's population and 60 per cent of its natural resources, these peoples are rapidly consolidating a new force, both moral and material, with which to raise the living standard and erect adaptations of the design of modern progress to their own distinct, cultural environments. Whether one adheres to the concept of colonization or not, this is the direction of Asian progress and it may not be stopped."

Gen. MacArthur's countrymen should understand that this Asiatic whirlwind whose seeds were sown by generations of European exploitation cannot be stopped. The Russians understand it.

They already have turned it to their advantage by pitting Chinese and North Korean fighting men against United States troops in a war which most Asiatics believe is for the purpose of repelling an invasion of their continent by the troops of unfriendly western governments.

The Russians are turning it to their advantage again by the beginning of a bloody contest in a forsaken place called Laos, in which the United States again may become involved in what will look to Asiatics like a defense of Asiatic independence against foreign invaders.

Peace Roadblock

By David Lawrence

Allied Disunity Encourages New Red Outrages

The so-called "peace" hopes of the administration are bogging down badly. Whereas only a few days ago there was a definite expectation that the Soviet Union meant to make peace, there now is a feeling of disappointment.

What makes the situation so disconcerting, however, is that the United States apparently is drifting along with the same opportunistic approach that the government of Great Britain, our principal ally, is manifesting.

The great cry of the Truman administration was that America and her Western partners had "repelled aggression" in Korea, but now it turns out that in midst of peace maneuvers, the Communists have committed another grave act of aggression by invading the kingdom of Laos — a move which threatens Indo - China and Southeast Asia. All the effort made in Korea has been nullified by a willingness on the part of the U.N. countries to accept a stalemate just above the 38th Parallel.

When the aggression occurred in Laos, the United States and the Western Allies were strangely silent. The London point of view was so pacifistic that it was urged that nothing be said "to rock the boat."

British reluctance to allow the United States to use maximum force against the Reds in the Far East has turned now into a mood of impatience lest the United States say anything to give the slightest offense to the Communist regimes in Moscow and Peiping.

So it was not until after a week had passed that the United States ventured to express publicly a denunciation of the aggression in Laos.

Prime Minister Churchill finally told the House of Commons that Britain was watching the Red invasion of Laos with anxiety. Only a few days ago Mr. Churchill was talking about flying to Moscow to talk peace with Malenkov. Maybe he is not so eager now.

Even the Panmunjom negotiations seem to have developed into a protracted talkathon that dispels any change in Communist policy. Lieut. Gen. William K. Harrison, the chief American negotiator, is quoted as having said in the last 24 hours:

"After participating in the negotiations for eight months with these people in which every day it was a continued harangue — a typical military operation — and not an effort at all apparently to reach under the proposal.

One would think from reading some comments abroad and in this country that the Communists have made a great concession.

Now the Communists are playing the same kind of game by holding out as bait the prospect of sending back about 3,000 American prisoners if there's a "cease fire."

This is a small proportion of the total who were taken prisoner and are now missing. It is believed that about 6,000 were either killed, or starved or tortured to death.

There has been a tendency to suppress the truth about the atrocities — again lest it offend the sensibilities of the Communists and cause them to turn away from their alleged objective of peacemaking.

But dispassionate appraisal of the situation leads to the conclusion that the Communists want a truce in Korea only that they may rearm and send troops into Southeast Asia for further military operations.

The tragedy of it all is that it isn't necessary to fight a third world war in order to bring the Korean War to an end.

Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee last year, who has been touring Korea is quoted in "Look" magazine as saying that our fliers ought at least to be able to hit back at those who fire at them. He was referring to anti-aircraft fire and missions from bases in Manchuria.

The biggest single force that can be applied to end the Korean War is economic.

Sen. McCarthy's Committee on Government Operations has just been given testimony which indicates that the American government under the previous administration and to some extent the present administration has been afraid to offend Great Britain by insisting on a complete embargo on goods to Red China and Soviet Russia.

An effective embargo would cause economic hardship but the United States could well afford to compensate European producers and get for them at an equal price somewhere in the free world the articles they now are buying from Soviet Russia. This would put a crimp in the Communist war machine and compel the Soviet to sue for peace.

As long as economic measures are not being utilized, it is a travesty on the principle of collec-

Strike Back

New Money Policies Taking Effect

By John Harriman

BOSTON

Things are happening to money.

Money is beginning to be worth more, measured in the things you can buy with it. Money is becoming harder to borrow and costs more when you can borrow it.

This may not seem like momentous news to John Q. Public, but it is. There isn't a family, a job or a business that will not be affected by what is taking place in the money market today.

Nevertheless, great shifts are taking place in the last few years.

Under such a situation, lending agencies go no further than to relend money as present loans are paid of. This, somewhat simplified, is the reason why money is getting scarce today.

Now with mortgage money getting scarce, and costing more, the potential home buyer is not so prone to buy.

Let us take a 20-year, $10,000 loan as an illustration.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Miracle Time

This is National Miracle Month. The season with the built-in magic. The days when the peepers in a swamp talk more clearly than the diplomats in the global council halls, the frogs make more sense than state papers and the crocus flashes a message of hope not to be found in the utterances of the potentates.

Spring comes over the hills, putting on the show of shows beside which all the talents of artist, poet, Hollywood wondermen and Broadway celebrities seem bush league.

Now does the glory of a single golden forsythia cut stage and screen producer down to size. Now does nature make the king of the window-dressers seem a forlorn applicant on a Talent Scouts' program.

Today, we will swap the "world picture" for a vista across a valley. The bluprints and ten-year plans of man become ramshackle affairs in any comparison with the unfailing miracle of the vernal season.

The soundest speech of the foremost world leader carries less conviction and hope than a lone geranium in a weather-beaten box on a tenement windowsill.

This is the time of year when the trees spread a benediction, the blossoming fields give answer to "Tell me a story," the waterfalls make with organ music and the streams and choir lofts in the tree tops give a symphony concert beyond the reach of man-made instruments.

Now is visible the Panoply of Perfection. Seen in the flash of a bird from a flowering bush is the resurrection.

Beheld through the tulip and daffodil springing from the ground so recently drab and barren is the vision of the life everlasting.

-:-

Giving solace against a man-made scene of ultimatums, wars, casualty lists and battle bulletins is nature's panorama of order, beauty, peace and promise.

The blossoming magnolia is a prophet in pink, the radiant dogwood an apostle in white, giving testimony in wood and field, mountain top and valley.

In the red stem of the peony a few inches above the ground and struggling to keep a June booking in the Carnegie Halls of Nature there is hope for the sick, courage to the harassed and a whispered "Patience" to the worried.

To look across a garden or an open field is to see God coming over the hill and hear Him say, "If it were not so, I would have told you."

There is something about every willow suggesting the young man at the tomb saying, "Be not affrighted. He is risen."

Today's hope, tomorrow's wishes, next week's dreams are made to seem more certain of fulfilment by contemplation of tree and shrub and plant in the miracle visible from every thres-century period.

Here was a European-born New Yorker with a passion for social justice which caused him to be elevated by other New Yorkers into symbolic stature as a defender of human liberty.

When he resigned belatedly from the U.S. Senate in 1949 (he had been unable to carry on the duties of the office for about two years before that time) the old senator had been in Washington 22 years and in public life twice that long.

The New Deal in Washington brought his career to a climax in the years before World War II. Franklin D. Roosevelt shrewdly permitted his New York associate in Democratic politics to lead the triumph of liberalism in national affairs.

Yet, in fairness to the memory of a man whose name wrought such magic in New York politics that his son inherited his political career, one thing about Sen. Wagner's accomplishments should be straightened out in the record.

His great contribution, he believed, was the Wagner Labor Relations Act. Yet, when experience with that law had revealed by 1947 that it was subject to abuse by labor executives whose motives were less pure than those of the author, Sen. Wagner led the irreconcilable faction which fought the modified law—the Taft-Hartley Act.

He was unwilling to compromise in order to give working people the same rights which had been bestowed on union executives. He was unwilling to give employers the same rights. His career as a liberal ended in a mood of bitter reaction from the true spirit of liberalism, which is equal rights for all.

The Price of Peace

Trygve Lie, singing his swan song as secretary general of the United Nations, made some heartfelt remarks about the importance of compromise.

The retiring U.N. official speaks with the background of an expert. He was pushed out of his job because his attempts to find a middle ground infuriated both the Kremlin and Washington. Both tried to stake him out as private property.

Only a few days before he spoke, moreover, President Eisenhower had stirred misgivings on the same subject by making it appear the United States expected the Soviet Union to knuckle under on all questions in controversy as the price of an international understanding.

That impression, it was quickly pointed out, was unintentional, but it did irreparable damage—the same kind of damage which had been done on many occasions by the irreconcilable attitude of the Kremlin.

It is not imaginable that either the United States or the Soviet Union will split differences on any basic principle. But they must be prepared, if they have any hope of settling their differences short of war, to seek compromises where compromises are possible.

The danger of their present position is that their irreconcilable differences about religion and human rights will cause them to be irreconcilable about such technicalities as boundaries and procedures.

If the price of peace is the absolute triumph of both sides in an altercation threatening to produce war, there can be no peace and all talk of peace is hypocrisy.

some reasonable agreement, but using negotiations merely as a means for obtaining their own objectives. We are really trying to get an armistice but unless I am just awful dumb, the current negotiations are no different from last summer."

It will be recalled that the U.N. commander broke off negotiations at Panmunjom in the autumn of 1952. The Communists had to revive their peace propaganda and so a month ago they offered a few crumbs to the Allies in the form of a plan to exchange sick and wounded prisoners. Fewer than 150 Americans will have been returned tive security to ask American boys to do the bulk of the fighting while materialistic interests continue to supply goods to enemy countries.

The other day in the House of Commons, the government promised a Labor party interrogator that trade with the communists would be immediately resumed when an armistice is signed.

This would deprive the Allies of all their leverage in negotiating a settlement of the Korean problem once the "cease fire" has been achieved by the Soviet Union.

It is an example of the slipshod policies of the Allies versus a crafty enemy.

Pressing Their Luck

By TRUMAN TWILL

Things I could be impatient with, with a little more encouragement:

Modern architecture of the type that's different for the sake of being different, as if all buildings had been designed wrong, up to the present time.

Automobiles that look like Apperson "Jackrabbits" in an era when no one past advanced youth even remembers what an Apperson "Jackrabbit" looked like.

People who assume their patriotism is superior to the patriotism of other people who have no reason to advertise how patriotic they are.

Art work which reveals that the artist not only was trying to visualize something out of the ordinary but also was looking at it unskillfully through the bottom of a dirty drinking glass.

Story lines on television pot-boilers which are so trite there is no point in hanging around to see what happens, because you know what is going to happen, yet you can't be sure — and you were right in the first place.

Owlish - style spectacles now worn by men and women alike and which do nothing to enhance human appearance.

Loud waistcoats for me which are a startling departure from the rule that American men are willing to let American women monopolize faddism in wearing apparel.

People with nothing in particular to do who become so exhausted doing it claim the sympathy of busy people who get legitimately tired from necessary tasks.

The systematic attempt to make it appear that all holidays are to be dreaded because of the traffic accidents which inevitably ensue when America hits the road.

Horsetail hair-do's on women who bear a strong resemblance to horses.

The assumption that the only way to get what is coming to you is to ask for twice that much and split the difference after a mouthy harangue, with bad feelings all around.

Jokes about that fellow who changed his name to Christine.

Self-esteem boosters who do it by trampling on the sensibilities of others.

The credo that the only people on earth who can be counted on to do the right thing any more are Americans, as if Americans had graduated out of the human race.

Neckties which look as if they had mopped up an accident in the paint room.

Functional furniture which purports to be almost as comfortable as the fuddy - duddy old relics it is supposed to replace.

The idea that the best way to get things done is to put everything in charge of people too dumb to know what not to try to do.

The studied neglect of even basic manners by people who never have realized that good manners are the lubricant of harmonious relations.

People who smile at the broiled heads of foolish bald men who stayed in the sun too long.

CROSSTOWN — By Roland Coe

"You won't have to stop here any more. I'm learning to bake."

There are new managers and a new policy in the Treasury Department; and that policy is beginning to take effect. Some will benefit by this, and others may be hurt, but no one will escape its effect.

In the first place, money today is getting scarce. Banks and insurance companies, the big lenders, have much less money to lend.

At the same time, interest rates—the cost of borrowing money—are rising. The United States government is now paying 3¼ per cent for its long-term borrowing.

Commercial banks in New York are charging their top credit risks the same rate. . . the highest rate they have charged since 1934, in the early days of the New Deal.

This means that all other interest rates are rising, too. The 4 per cent mortgage is becoming a memory.

Loans which carry no government guarantee are being written at 5, 5½, and even 6 per cent in some parts of the country, and any businessman wanting to borrow from his banks finds it at once less easy and more costly than at any time in recent years.

On the other side of the coin is the fact that inflation is dead. Prices will not rise further unless, of course, we have some sort of military explosion in Asia or Europe. And most economists think that prices soon may start to decline.

These happenings in the money market in one sense are hurting all those who borrow money. . . and benefiting those who lend money. But that does not quite tell the whole story. In the first place most borrowers also are lenders—for instance, you are a borrower if you have a mortgage on your home, but you are a lend-

Nevertheless, great shifts are taking place within the economy as a result of the new fiscal policy in Washington. From its beginning, the Eisenhower administration has said that it favored sound money. It now appears thet the administration meant exactly what it said.

Back of the administration's new policy is one single belief, or theory: That credit is inflationary when we have full employment.

In other words, the new policy makers in the Treasury Department would not mind seeing credit increased if there were idle factories, and a large number of unemployed. But when there is no unemployment, nationally speaking, it is the belief of our new money managers that increasing credit simply results in a weakened dollar and rising prices.

Thus, the primary purpose of the new policy is to check the recent rapid increase in credit—in borrowing by both business and the public.

It should be noted that the Truman administration also believed that credit under conditions of full employment was inflationary. But it sought to hold credit in check by direct controls — Regulation X, and W, and by an arrangement of "voluntary" credit curtailment on the part of the banks.

Public opinion did not support the last administration in this effort, it should be noted, at least after the post-Korean buying spree tapered off. For that reason it was not really successful.

The Eisenhower administration is seeking the same end—that is, curtailed credit—by making money scarce and more expensive. As of now it looks as if this is being accomplished with telling effect.

Let us take home mortgages, the area where the largest amount of public borrowing takes place. Back in 1945, the people of this country owed $18,500,000,000 in mortgages.

In 1949, they owned $37,500,000,000. But total mortgage debt stands at $59,800,000,000 today.

At this point the new administration deliberately forces up interest rates. It does this by two means:

1—It stops the Federal Reserve from supporting government bond prices.

2—It sells a long-term bond with 3¼ per cent interest rate.

Now when government interest rates go up, all the interest rates follow. Obviously a bank cannot charge even a prime credit risk 3 Per cent—the rate until last week—when it can lend money to the United States goverment at 3¼ per cent. The same principle applies to all other credit risks.

This means that insurance companies and banks do not want to sell their governments, for if they did they would have to take a heavy loss in principal. This has the effect of "freezing" the portfolios of the big sources of mortgage funds. It is by the selling of large amount of government bonds that these lenders have obtained the funds to finance the huge increase in mortgage debt that has

At 4 per cent interest that loan means monthly payments of $60.00.

At 4½ per cent interest, monthly payments rise to $63.27.

At 5 per cent, payments are $66.

At 6 pr cent, $71.65.

That is the way higher interest rates work to restrain credit—that is, borrowing.

What is true of the mortgage field is also true of all other borrowing.

Higher interest rates hold a check on installment buying, on-inventory accumulation, and on the disposition of business to expand.

Just how far the administration intends to go along this path of credit curtailment is not know. Indeed, the administration probably does not know itself until it sees the effect of its most recent steps.

Furthermore, some will find the present policy dangerous, on the ground that inflation already was dead when the administration took over, and that recent financial policy might well head us into a rather serious decline.

Others, however, will applaud the new policy as the most effective means yet discovered to stabilize the dollar, after the dangerous decline in value in the last 14 years.

The pros and cons of this issue will be argued heatedly. No one, as yet, can give a verdict.

But one thing is certain the days of "easy" monel. New Deal cornerstone, are over. The days of inflation have come to an end.

Allen McNeal, a resident of Tully Township, a public-spirited pioneer and anti-slavery supporter, was a native of Pennsylvania where he was born June 17, 1809. He made speeches against the "crime of the ages" slavery, when it was the custom to break up such meetings and to mob and egg the speakers. He practiced what he professed, keeping a station on the Underground Railroad and helping many a poor fugitive on his way to freedom. The poor, oppressed and needy always demanded more of his attention and time than their more fortunate neighbors. No man was too poor, if he behaved himself, to sit with him at his table. All who happened at his home at the right time, were invited to partake of his hospitality, but the laborer, white or black, sat down first.

Writes on Hiss

By George Sokolsky

I have delayed commenting on the Earl of Jowitt's book on Alger Hiss out of courtesy to the American publishers, although I have had the British edition for some time. However, "Publisher's Weekly," for April 25, contained the following paragraph which requires considerable correction:

SOKOLSKY

"An analysis of the entire Hiss-Chambers case by a distinguished English jurist who has made a detailed study of the many volumes containing the transcript of the trial and of other background sources.

"Although he has weighed the evidence with legal impartiality, the implication is clear that there is more than 'reasonable doubt' as to Alger Hiss's guilt. A controversial book that will undoubtedly get wide attention in the press."

THE EDITOR of "Publishers' Weekly" may not know it, but Alger Hiss had two trials, plus a motion for rehearing, plus appeals to appellate courts, including the Supreme Court of the United States, which rejected his appeals twice.

Added to this were the initial hearings before the House Committee on un-American Activities.

The Earl of Jowitt does not contend, in the English edition of his book, that he has read all of the material.

He states that he has read a full transcript of the second trial; he has apparently read "A Generation on Trial," by Alistair Cooke, "Seeds of Treason," by De Toledano and Lasky, and "Witness," Whittaker Chambers.

There is no evidence in his book that he has done any other reading on the subject.

Jowitt did not come to the United States to study the Hiss case. He displays little or no knowledge of the events that led up to the case.

He is a lawyer, reading a transcript of a trial and three books, who sets himself up as superior to the courts of this country, including the Supreme Court of the United States.

THIS BLURB in "Publishers' Weekly" gives the impression that Jowitt "weighed the evidence with legal impartiality," but Jowitt's book establishes the contrary view.

Jowitt states on pages 50-51 of the British edition:

"Of course, the evidence of character does not prove that the accused did not commit the crime; but it does go to show that he belongs to a category of people who are not likely to commit dishonorable or discreditable acts.

"Is it to be seriously suggested that the burden of proof should be precisely the same in the case of a man of proved integrity as it would be in the case of an unmitigated rascal?"

In the American theory of jurisprudence, all men are equal in the eyes of the law. We have no aristocracy. We have no peerage. Jowitt is a socialist earl, made such by the Labor government. A socialist becomes a peer and he separates human beings into those of "proved integrity" and those who are "unmitigated rascals."

IF THE MAN of "proved integrity" commits murder, is the dead person less dead because a well-bred hand pierced his skin with a refined dagger? How long does it take a socialist to become a snob?

I am not supposed to review Jowitt's book on Hiss until May 21, when the American edition appears. Then I shall, point by point, call attention to the factual errors which are unbelievable in a man who has been Lord Chancellor in England, unless I take my politics from Gilbert and Sullivan.

Jowitt says in his preface to the British edition:

"The law is a conservative profession, and any lawyer tends to be prejudiced in favor of a system with which he is familiar; yet it is wholesome for him to study the workings of a different system. If, from time to time, I seem to criticise, I sincerely hope that my criticisms will not be resented and will not be considered impertinent. . ."

OF COURSE, the Earl of Jowitt is privileged to criticize our courts and our judicial procedures.

Anybody can do that, but as a jurist he should have read the whole record — every word of the record.

He said ". . . when I was still lord chancellor, I had sent to me the full transcript of the second trial of Alger Hiss, which resulted in his conviction for perjury."

Who sent him the record? Did he ask the Department of Justice for it?

Who sent him the transcript of the second but not of the first trial? Who is his expert on American affairs?

Medical Missionary To Speak in Marion

Dr. Evelyn Witthoff, medical missionary for the Church of the Nazarene in India since 1947, will be in Marion Thursday night to speak in First Church of the Nazarene here. She is now in this country on her first furlough, and is engaged in deputation work, speaking throughout the denomination.

Having sailed for India in 1941, she was intercepted at Manila by the Japanese and was interned in Santo Tomas Prison three years. She returned to the United States in 1945 and sailed again for India two years later. She has spent her full term of service in India at the Reynolds Memorial Hospital at Basim, Berar, an interior city. More than 10,000 natives come there every year to be treated. Her medical training was received at the University of Michigan where she earned the M. D. Degree, following study and Bachelor's Degree at the University of Illinois. Time of the service here will be 7:30.

Mass Arrests Follow Argentine Bombings

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Police claim a wave of arrests throughout Argentina has broken a ring that plotted to terrorize the Argentine people by bombings. One source estimated more than 150 persons had been taken into custody.

The roundup netted many opposition politicians, chiefly members of the Conservative party—once Argentina's strongest. Party headquarters in many provinces were raided and leaders arrested.

Music Club Gives Special Program At Waddell Home

Members of the Life Membership Club of the Lecture Recital Club furnished a musical program and social afternoon for the Waddell Ladies Home Sunday. Mrs. Gerald Jennings was in charge of the program and the social chairman was Mrs. David Evans .

Miss Evelyn Price, an active member of the Junior Music Club, opened the program with "The Little Shepherd's Song," and "Into the Night" by Clara Edwards. Her accompanist was Mrs. Jennings.

Mrs. Ben Whitney, an alumna of Ashland College and a new soloist of the Senior Lecture-Recital Club this year, sang the following solos: "Promenade A' Mule" by the French composer, Fourdrian, "Here On My Bosom, Here On My Heart" by Schuman, and "Clouds" by Ernest Charles.

A group of piano selections was offered by Mrs. Jennings. They included "Intermezzo Opus 119 No. 2" and "Romanze" by Brahms. "Valse" by Hoszkowski, "Rustle of the Spring" by Sinding and "Butterflies" by Greig.

The radio program of the Central District featuring the girls' ensemble of Harding High School was heard.

At the close, the women joined in singing the twilight hymn, "Abide With Me" led by Mrs. Ben Whitney. Mrs. Jennings played the accompaniment.

At the close of the afternoon's program, a tea was served buffet style. Centerpiece of the table featured an arrangement of pink spring flowers, tall white tapers in silver candelabra, and May baskets on a large silver tray. Appointments were in keeping with a spring theme.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. James C. Woods and Mrs. David Evans.

School Issue Defeated in Ada

Special to The Star

ADA—In the only primary election held in Harding County, a special ballot for a $175,000 school bond issue here, the issue was defeated at the polls Tuesday. A 60 per cent majority was needed to pass.

Voting tabulations were: 345 in favor of the issue; 363 against. The issue carried in only one of the seven Ada precincts, Liberty Township-B, where the vote was:

District Junior Music Club Members Entertained Here

Nearly 100 members of junior music clubs in the Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, were entertained in Marion Sunday afternoon by the Youth of Marion Lecture - Recital Club of which Mrs. T. L. Berg is counselor. The meeting was held at First EUB Church.

Guest speaker was Dr. Bliss M. Wiant of Delaware who was director of music many years in China at Yenching University at Peking. His address was on "Chinese Musical Culture," and he displayed musical instruments of the Orient including a heavy gold-plated and decorated bell from the "Altar of Heaven" at Peking. He spoke of the ancient culture of China, the customs of the people, and their appreciation of music, their delicate sense of tone with consideration of the materials going into tons" such as the metals, and various elements, even "earth, sky and water." His book of 13 Chinese songs was used in audience singing.

Mrs. J. F. Lacey of Marion, junior clubs counselor for the Central District, introduced Mrs. Ralph Mills of Marion, the state counselor, who spoke on what the clubs delegations. To open the program, invocation was by the pastor of the host church, Dr. L. E. Ames.

Taking part in the program were young musicians from Delaware, Zanesville, Columbus, Mt. Vernon, and Marion. Two Columbus clubs are new organizations in the district.

For a tea following, table decorations were in pink and silver with a flower arrangement featuring pink tulips.

The Marion student musicians included Joan Neidhart, Diane Copeland, Lynn Wolgamot, Ben Bechtle, and Gene Greer. In addition, members of committees were Jean Bibbee, Alinda Temple, Rosemary Sidenstricker, Roger Jamison, Sally Schneider, Susan Kinsler, Sally Shirk, Barbara Wolf, Carolyn Jones, Evelyn Price, Madelyn Marsh, Jerry Gillis, Ruth Bosley, and Linnea Gonalez. Mrs. Leonard Bechtle and Mrs. John Gillis assisted in serving.

School Bond Issue Loses In Galion

$1,350,000 Measure For New High School Defeated 1,019-772

Special to The Star

GALION—Galion citizens at the primary Tuesday failed to pass a $1,350,000 school bond issue. The vote was 1,019 against the bond issue, and 772 votes for it.

In one precinct, the vote was ten to one against the bond issue. It lost in all of Galion's 12 precincts.

This was the first time that a bond levy for school funds has lost in Galion. Another issue for park recreation funds several years ago also lost.

The bond issue was proposed by the Galion Board of Education for financing a new senior high school building, the addition of four rooms to the East School building, remodeling of present Senior High School for use by seventh and eighth grades of the city. The bond issue was supported by the Citizens Committee for the Bond Issue, and it was opposed by the Committee for a Modified school building program.

The primary here was the only one held in Crawford County. Galion's last primary was held in 1949. There was no primary election in 1951.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The Marion Busy Daisy 4-H Club held its third meeting recently at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Evelyn Miller of 318 Clinton St. with nine members present. Another meeting was set for May 13, with the advisor entertaining.

Members of the Morral 4-H Stepping Stones Club made pot holders for their mothers when they met recently. Refreshments were served by Susan Cochran, Jill Hooper and Janet Cocherl. Next meeting of the group will be held at the school house May 11 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Thompson showed pictures taken by Mrs. McCleary on the latter's trip to Hawaii with friends, the Rev. W. E. Zimmerman and Mrs. Zimmerman of Coshocton, formerly of Marion, and Mrs. McCleary told of her experiences on the trip. The Coshocton minister, a former pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Marion, and his wife an dtheir guest were entertained by the couple's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, at Honolulu.

Music on the program was by Pauline Weston and Pat Ritchie who sang. To open the meeting, group singing was led by Mrs. Margaret Webb. Devotions were by Mrs. Norma Burnett. Mrs. Helen Weston presided for business. A report on the nursery for small children conducted during church service was given by Mrs. Jeanne Jansen. Plans were made to send flowers to shutins for Mothers Day. Reports were given by members who attended Presbyterial meeting in April at Mt. Gilead. Refreshments were served by Circle 2. Announcement was made of Family Night observance with a pot luck supper May 19.

Two Bucyrus Men Injured In Accident

Car Overturns In Front of Marion Engineer Depot

Two Bucyrus men were hospitalized at Marion City Hospita this morning as a result of a one car accident on Route 30-S in fron of the Marion Engineer Depot.

Roy S. Raby Sr., 30, driver of the car, and a passenger, Ells worth Rolland, 28, both of Bucyrus, were taken to the hospita after their westbound car skidded off the highway on a curve, crashed into a ditch on the left side of the road, broke off a utility pole and overturned on the high way, state patrolmen reported.

Raby suffered a lacerated righ elbow, possible concussion of the skull, bad bruises on both knees and bruises of the face and upper right arm, while Rolland was treated for a laceration around the right eye and nose, possible fracture of the lower jaw, numerous abrasions of the face and multiple contusions. Both are reported to be in "good" condition at the hospital.

A motorcycle driven by John W. Cooper, 44, of Bucyrus, crashed into the left side of a truck driven by David W. Stiverson, 29, of Morral, on Route 4, just north of the Route 23 intersection, at 3:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Patrolmen said the truck was apparently attempting to turn left and the motorcycle was going to pass. Moderate damage to the front fender and light of the motorcycle was reported. The truck received minor damage.

Cooper was treated by patrolmen at the scene for a laceration on the head and a bruised left shoulder.

Rev. Evan Owens Elected Head Of County Ministerial Assoc.

REV. EVAN R. OWENS

The Rev. Evan R. Owens, pastor of Prospect Street Methodist Church, was elected president of the Marion County Ministerial Association Monday at the YMCA.

Elected to serve with him were the Rev. William F. Kissel, pastor of the Waldo Evangelical and Reformed Charge, vice president; and the Rev. Norman Renn, pastor of Fite Memorial Baptist Church in Marion, secretary-treasurer. The new term of office will become effective July 1.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Lamoyne Green, superintendent of the Marion Training School. In his discussion on the background of the young men there he said that 6 per cent assigned to the school are from broken homes.

John Boyd, chairman of the sight conservation committee of the Lions Club, spoke in regard to the work of the committee and appealed to the ministers for co-operation of the group in bringing to attention of his club any children of needy families requiring eyeglasses. Enlistment of the pastors in the work was assured.

In support of the Christian Rural Overseas Program, plans were made for a meeting Friday night at Prospect Street Methodist Church. Representatives from Granges and Farm Bureau councils are on the invitation list, and the organization will be set up for the annual solicitation of donations to CROP in the county. Clyde Rogers from the Ohio Council of Churches will be the speaker.

Driver Charged With Leaving Accident Scene

Thomas J. McCleese, 23, of 795 Davids St., was arrested Tuesday night by state highway patrolmen on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident which occurred at 1 a.m. Tuesday on Route 4, just north of the city limits. The mishap involved the McCleese car and a car driven by Delbert K. Burl of Lorain. The Burl car was sideswiped and forced off the highway into a General Telephone Co. pole by the oncoming McCleese car, which was then unidentified, patrolmen reported.

Patrolmen later found the abandoned McCleese car on a county road north of the city and had it towed away. McCleese contacted patrolmen Tuesday night in regards to the accident. He was cited to appear in Municipal Court Thursday morning to answer the charge.

Edward M. Dachtler, 44, of Cleveland, was arrested by the patrol Tuesday on a charge of crossing a railroad track while the warning signals were flashing. He was fined $25 and costs in Municipal Court.

British View

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — Well, rawther, old boy, we just don't go for a dry campus along the Thames.

"You can drink anything you want—if you can afford it, which you ordinarily can't," said one of Cambridge University's top debaters.

The British university exports two of its brighter, more vocal spirits every other year to America to make a debating tour.

The current duo, winding up a successful 30-debate tour—Alastair Sampson, 24, and Peter Mansfield, 24 — found many things about America hard to understand, and particularly college drinking rules.

"Take your theory of a dry campus," said Peter. "You know, that wouldn't go at all in England. Wine and spirits are for sale on the campus. Most of our students—Alastair and I are typical—have spent two years in service.

"It is difficult to tell a veteran what he should and shouldn't do."

The two British lads were a bit shocked at American university restrictions during their tour—and the need for them.

They are accustomed to a system under which students are permitted more latitude. They can serve liquor in their rooms if they choose, and a man is free to entertain a woman student in his chambers without chaperon until midnight, but—

"I wouldn't say the same system would work at all in your country," said Peter. "You see, in England there are so few universities that the people who go there go, at least partly, to work."

"Yes," nodded Alastair vigorously, "not for the social life."

They pointed out that only one out of 10 students at Cambridge was a woman, and she was bent on knowledge because she had to pass a stiff examination even to be admitted to the institution.

Both lads seemed disillusioned with the fruits of coeducation, both here and at Cambridge.

"There is a lot of emphasis on chasing girls here in America," said Peter.

"Yes," said Alastair, "there is so much accent on sex in American life it is bound to have an effect on the undergraduate at the time he begins to drive a car and enjoy freedom."

Both lads were convinced by their tour that America had much to offer, much to learn.

"You have a wonderful technique for living in the United States," said Peter. "You have a fast pulse . . . a feeling of change . . . a great ease between people . . . you are not shy and awkward with each other as we sometimes are"

"Yes, you have so much to be proud of," said Alastair. "What surprised us most on this first visit is how much more of a real nation you are than a melting pot. A second generation Italian and a third generation Swede have everything in common. Your unity is amazing."

"And dangerous," said Peter.

They both agreed on this. They thought Americans yearned for culture but their drive for unity created a situation where "those who try to build a culture are suspect because they are different. they have to fight against a social stigma."

As to the comparative advantages of American and English college girls, Peter said:

"The American girl is better dressed, more charming, although her charm may be synthetic, and she is not ashamed of being attractive to men. The English girl is baddy and--."

"Oh, I wouldn't say that," protested Alastair.

"I would," said Peter.

Harding Choir Gives Program For Rotary

Tribute Paid To L. G. Jones, Director Of Student Group

Under the direction of L. G. Jones, the Harding High School Choir gave its annual program for the Rotary Club and its guests at the club's weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding Tuesday.

Included on the program of songs were "Arise, O God and Show Thy Might, Haydn Morgan; "He That Dwelleth," Marth, with Delores Cosey as contralto soloist; "Hospodi Pomilui" (Lord Have Mercy), Lvov-Wilhousky; "Deep River," arranged by Lyn Murray; "Religion Is a Fortune," Cain; "The Road Is Calling," Walter-Clement; and "The Arkansas Traveler," arranged by Waverly. Encore numbers were "Hi Ho, Nobody Home," Ray Charles; "My God and I," Sergei.

Accompanist for the choir is Lenette Smith.

Edgar W. Barnhart, Rotary program chairman, gave an introductory talk which included a brief history of the choir and a tribute to Mr. Jones for his record as its director.

The choir was organized in 1938 by Mr. Jones and has been outstanding among extra-curricular activities each year since.

The choir is composed of approximately 70 voices and because of graduation is rotated every two years. Members of the choir get experience as "apprentices" in the Junior Choir before becoming members of the school choir.

The name a capella which previously was applied to the choir has been dropped since the choir does use accompaniment on a few numbers in its repertoire, Mr. Jones has explained.

The choir currently is practicing for its annual concert to be given Tuesday, May 12, the admission for which will be 50 cents.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting included George Planck of Loudenville, O., Rob Roy McKinniss of Bucyrus, and Ralph Crammond of Sandusky. Guests were Robert S. Elliott of Miami, Fla., Ransome Williams of Cincinnati, R. C. Maley of Columbus, Tom Mack of Lancaster, Ernest B. Allen and Stanley Franks of Marion.

Student reporter for Tuesday's meeting was Glen Craft of the Harding High School journalism class.

$750 Million Bond Issue Proposed for Ohio Roads

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—For years, the state highway department has pleaded poverty. And no one could argue. There just hasn't been enough money to go around.

If the department strikes it rich—very rich—it might be embarrassing. The bonanza might catch the roadbuilders with their plans down.

The big bonanza would come if Ohio voters next November authorize a 750-million-dollar bond issue to build state highways in the next 10 years.

Right at first, the department could go on a splurge. In six to eight months it could spend 100 million dollars. But by then it would be at the botom of its barrel of plans. Then and there the splurge would end. You can't build a highway without plans.

"Spending the second 100 million would be tough," sadly admits John J. Heier, plans and program chief of the highway department.

"Roughly speaking, it takes two years from scratch to get plans for a big project drawn, approved, advertised and sold."

It would be hard to argue the department ought to have more plans than that in the works. The 100 million dollar program covers more than two years of normal operations.

Even yet, the department can't plan on the bonanza basis. Assuming the Republican Llegislature puts the big bond issue on the ballot, the big question remains: Will the voters approve it?

If they don't, Ohio will continue to build its highways on a pay as-you-go basis. The state, with new truck and gasoline taxes, still will have 40 million dollars each year in new highway money.

Where will it go?

A recent thorough survey showed Ohio's greatest highway needs in the next generation will be:

1. Arterial highways between major cities.

2. Express highways in and close to big cities to ease the traffic crush.

The survey showed Ohio has 240 miles of four-lane highways and needs 813 more.

The federal government will g 50-50 with the state on the four-lane highways. But there's a limit Last year the limit on federal matching money on Ohio roads was 22½ millions. It is likely to stay about the same.

Will the new highway money—with or without the big bond issue—mean four-lane highways all the way from Cleveland, through Columbus, to Cincinnati, or from Toledo to Dayton, or from Columbus to Toledo? Briefly, no.

None of the long routes mentioned, highway engineers maintain, has sufficient traffic over its entire length to justify 100 per cent four-lane construction. There are many spots on those routes where a high-grade, 24-foot, two - lane highway is ample, they insist. That is especially true in flat country.

Four-lane highways cost $500,000 to one million dollars a mile. If that sounds expensive, take a look at the long-range programs of six major Ohio cities — Akron, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton and Toledo. They total 686½ millions.

Now under negotiation with the state are big - city project which would cost 221½ millions. The state share of these would be slightly over 61 millions.

Crash Claims 7th Victim

Only Step-Father Remains of Family

BUCYRUS—Mrs. Martha Baum, 29, of Lima, whose husband and three children died as a result of a two-car crash near here, died in a Columbus hospital Tuesday. The crash, worst in Crawford County for many years, has taken a total of seven lives.

Mrs. Baum's stepfather, Salvatore Degastino, 64, also of Lima, is the sole survivor of the accident which occurred on Route 4, three miles east of Bucyrus, on April 25.

Dead are: Mrs. Baum, her husband, Kenneth, 32, and three-year-old daughter, Irma, who died in the crash; her sons, Jack, 9, and Wayne, 10, who died later in Bucyrus City Hospital; and two Marines, Sgt. William J. Houck , 23, of Holgate, and Cpl. Lea McTurnan, 24, of Parker, Ind., in the second car, who died instantly.

Investigating state highway patrolmen from the Marion post reported that the accident occurred in the early morning when the serviceman's car skidded on the wet pavement into the path of the oncoming Baum car.

Dismiss Shooting Charge Against Delaware Farmer

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — Charge of shooting with intent to kill against a 32-year-old Harlem Township farmer, Donald H. Rice, was dismissed here Monday by Justice E. Clifford Giltner after a preliminary hearing.

E. J. Sebring, 68, owner of a farm adjoining the Rice property on the Sebring Rd., south of Center Village, filed the charge. He accused Rice of discharging a shotgun at him while he was tearing down a line fence the younger man had constructed between their lands.

The incident allegedly occurred Sunday. Rice was arrested at his home Monday.

Rice testified the gun was discharged in the air and testimony of both men showed the gun had been discharged while Rice was from 50 to 100 yards from the place where Sebring and his son, Noel, 24, were working on the fence.

Rice admitted threatening Sebring and forcing him to quit work on the fence which he contended was built on his land.

Sebring admitted he had torn down an old fence between the farms and later had torn down one Rice had built to replace it. He charged Rice was appropriating from four to eight inches of his land by constructing the fence as

Tractor Turns Over on Boy, 6

Richwood Child In Kenton Hospital

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD—Thomas McElroy 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J McElory, of near Richwood, was taken to San Antonio Hospital in Kenton after a farm tractor he was driving overturned on him Monday.

The child suffered multiple fractures of the leg and body bruises at his farm home Monday afternoon after he lost control of the tractor which hit a tree and overturned on him.

The six-year-old had been riding on the tractor with an older brother, Jack, 17, who left the vehicle to open a gate. The younger child attempted to drive the tractor through the gate, when it hit the tree and upset. In an attempt to grab his younger brother, Jack sustained a badly bruised ankle, but was not taken to the hospital.

Approximately 300 persons attended the opening session of the 1953 Gasco Food Institute Tuesday afternoon at the Palace Theater which carried a Showboat theme.

The lecturer, Miss Katherine Ashcraft, institute manager, Jay Parker and the local Betty Newton, Miss Betty Cox, were central figures in the session which was conducted like a play, in three acts. Miss Ashcraft and Parker are from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in Columbus.

The play included oven, broiler and surface meals on a range and their uses and also desserts. Some 15 different recipes were used.

The participants in the play came from the theater onto the

Senate Passes Tidelands Bill By 56-35 Vote

Up to $300 Billion In Submerged Oil Rights Go to States

WASHINGTON (AP)—The bill to give the states title to oil-laden submerged lands off their shores, debated in the Senate for more than a month, may pick up marked speed and wind up within a few days on the desk of President Eisenhower, who has indicated he will sign it.

The measure which the Senate passed, 56-35, late yesterday, after an acrimonious debate which started April 1, differs in one major respect and some minor ones from the measure approved earlier by the House.

But efforts were being made to persuade the House Republican leadership that the best course would be for the House to accept the Senate version, rather than risk a new Senate talkfest over a compromise.

No action was likely today, since the House scheduled only memorial services for members and former members who have died in the past year. But tomorrow, it is likely that the House will be asked to accept the Senate measure. If it does so, the bill would go to the White House.

Before approving the bitterly fought legislation, subject of over 1¼ million words of floor debate in the longest Senate battle in 15 years, the Senate batted down every one of a dozen amendments offered by opponents.

They contended they were trying to cancel or modify what they termed a giant "giveaway" of federal property over which the Supreme Court has held that the federal government holds paramount rights. Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), an opponent, said oil in the lands involved has been estimated by geologists to be worth from 50 to 300 billion dollars.

The bill was defended, on the other hand, as a matter of justice to the states which, proponents said, had assumed for 150 years that they owned the submerged lands within their historic boundaries.

The states with proved offshore oil are California, Texas and Louisiana.

The bill would recognize state ownership of all submerged lands within historic state boundaries.

Ohio Supreme Court Rules On Four Cases

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court refused today to review the appeal of six men convicted of violating a 1952 picketing injunction at the Cambria Clay Products Co., Blackfork, Lawrence County.

The action left standing court fines of $500 and 10-day jail sentences growing out of dynamite blasts, shots at cars and injuries to several people. The court rejected the appeal for lack of a debatable constitutional question.

Common Pleas Court limited local 879, AFL United Brick and Clay Workers Union, to picket lines at the company's clay and silica plants.

Convicted of violating the order were Lawrence Robinson, Reuben Woods, Edison Gilliamore, Owen Craddolph, Joba Woods and Otto Holtzapfel.

The supreme court accepted for review the appeal of Charles W. Hillman, Jr., Canton, convicted Feb. 25, 1952, and sentenced to life imprisonment for child rape.

In another Canton case, the court took under review an appeal by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio in a damage action by Sam Parras. Common Pleas Court held for the company in Parras' $10,000 damage action for injuries suffered in a fall on a slippery grease rack. An appellate court reversed the decision and sent the case back for further action and the company appealed.

The court refused to review Clark County court decisions in an action by Woodrow W. West resulting from loss of the welding business he left in 1943 to enter the Navy.

West sued his foster mother, Luretta Patton, for breach of contract under which he said she agreed to operate the Springfield business for him.

Other defendants were Dennis Patton, who took over the business, and V. L. Ballentine.

West valued equipment at $15,500. Common Pleas Court awarded him $9,000. When the court allowed a new trial, West asked a change of venue. He claimed he could not obtain a fair trial in Clark County because of prejudice against his attorney, Drewey Wysong, credited with closing the Silver Dollar gambling spot. The court refused the change.

On the second trial, the court held for Mrs. Patton and an appellate court affirmed the decision.

PLEADS INNOCENT

LONDON (AP)—John Christie, 55-year-old owl-eyed trucking clerk, pleaded innocent today to charges of murdering four women in his shabby back-street London apartment. Christie, for 24 years tenant of the Notting Hill death house which has yielded up the remains of six dead women, was committed for trial.

ers were tallied.

Harry D. Cahill, incumbent Republican city treasurer, was unopposed for the nomination. He polled the highest complimentary vote of any candidate. A total of 997 voters backed him. George A. Piacentino, Republican city solicitor, polled 959 complimentary voted and Mayor Robinson had 918 votes.

Highest complimentary vote on the Democratic ticket went to Mrs. Barbara Bingham Norris. She was unopposed for the nomination as city treasurer and polled 534 votes.

Following the close of the polls at 6:30 p. m., precinct workers quickly completed the task of counting the votes. By 7:05 returns began coming in to the Board of Elections office at the courthouse. The last precinct reported in at 8:10.

The vote by wards on the Republican council president race and the precinct votes in the ward council races follow:

PROTEST BORDER INCIDENTS

TEL EVIV, Israel (AP)—Diplomatic representatives here of the U. S., Britain, France and Turkey today were invited to the Israeli Foreign Office where Israeli officials expressed concern over Arab-Jewish frontier incidents.

2 Accidents

Two minor traffic accidents, one a hit-skip, were investigated Tuesday by Marion police.

An unidentified car struck a car owned by Dr. John F. MacGregor which was parked in front of his residence at 29 Windsor Apartments about 8:20 a.m. Tuesday. The front bumper and grill of the parked car was damaged. A long chrome strip, believed ripped from the side of the hit-skip car, was found lying in the street near the parked car. Extent of the damage to the hit-skip car was not known, police reported.

The rear fender, trunk lid and gas tank of a car driven by Mrs. Jean R. Howser of 919 Leetonia Rd. were badly damaged when struck by another car driven by Dwight D. Brown, 49, of 354 Blaine Ave. in the 200 block on Leader St. at 411 p.m. Tuesday. The entire front end of Brown's car was also badly damaged, police said. The accident occurred when Mrs. Howser stopped in a lane of traffic for a traffic light and Brown ran into the rear of her car.

Draws Sentence On Contributing Charge

Leon Murphy, 24, of Bellevue, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor Marion girl, changed his plea to guilty in a hearing this morning before Judge Edward J. Ruzzo and was sentenced to six months in the workhouse.

Murphy was arrested April 28 in Bellevue on a warrant issued through Juvenile Court. Marion County sheriff's deputies returned him to Marion from Bellevue. On April 29 he entered a plea of not guilty before Judge Ruzzo who set his bond at $1,000.

The Marion girl was ordered committed to the Bureau of Juvenile Research in Columbus by Judge Ruzzo.

Jets Blast 17 Red Targets

SEOUL (AP) — U. S. Thunderjets swept almost to the Yalu River boundary of North Korea today and divebombed at least 17 major buildings at the abandoned Kangge Dam.

Sabre jet fighters flew escort for the 36 Thunderjets in one of the war's deepest fighter-bomber penetrations of North Korea.

ON THE NOSE

LIMA, O. (AP)—Fred F. Flager, clerk of the Allen County Election Board, won the election guessing championship yesterday.

The Lima News asked Flager how many votes he estimated cast in Tuesday's municipal primary. He said 11,111.

When the board tallied all the ballots, including spoiled ballots, it found the total was—11,111.

Police Rush Life Net to Upper

A plea for help from the Wyandot County Sheriff's office got quick action from the Marion police and fire departments early this morning.

At 5:36 a.m. Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister radioed the Marion police department and asked that a life net be sent to Upper Sandusky for use in saving a mental patient who was intent on jumping from high up in a barn located on the outskirts of the city.

Within a few minutes, the Marion fire department was contacted, a loan of a life net was arranged, and at 5:48 a.m. a police cruiser sped to Upper Sandusky with the net.

No sooner had the net arrived and been placed under the man's perch outside the barn than he fell toward the inside and landed some 40 feet below on some stacked straw.

Sheriff McAllister reported he and his deputies were at the scene from 1 a.m. until about 6 a.m. He said the man was threatening suicide by jumping from the gables of the barn through some doors, used for loading hay into the hay mow, to the ground outside the barn.

Damage to Bridge Estimated at $100

Damage caused to a steel bridge on the Hillman-Ford Rd. when an automobile driven by Scott Hassell of Morral struck it late Saturday night was estimated at $100 by Marion County Engineer Reed Ours.

Hassell told the sheriff's office that he struck the bridge while stopping his car for a moving train on a nearby track.

The engineer reported the repairs to the bridge were completed.

WON'T DEMAND DIAMOND

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India's government had calming words for Britain today. It's not going to try to take the Kohinoor diamond out of the crown of Queen Mother Elizabeth. Maulana Azad, minister of education and natural resources, said India is not going to ask Britain to return the 106-carat stone surrendered to the British when they annexed the Punjab in 1849.

Last of Freed POWs Arrive In U.S. Today

HONOLULU (AP)—A giant C97 Stratocruiser carrying 38 sick and wounded fighting men home from Communist prison camps took off last night for California.

The big plane is due at Travis Air Force Base, 40 miles northeast of San Francisco, at 11 a. m. (1 p. m., EST) today.

The departure from Hickam Air Force Base here was quiet and without fanfare.

an all-day membership drive Tuesday which began with a breakfast meeting at the Harding Hotel at 8 a.m. and ended with a dinner meeting at the Country Club at 6:30 p.m.

At the membership breakfast, the Chamber reported that 3,500 new jobs for Marion workers were "brought in by your Chamber of Commerce."

Keynote of the drive was based on C of C plans to "Keep Marion Ahead." Those attending the breakfast were told that membership in the Chamber is business insurance for only seven cents a day.

Co-chairmen of the membership drive were Jack Danner and Cleo Ludwig.

Seven teams made up of 52 members of the Chamber visited various business men during the morning to solicit new memberships and renew previous memberships. Team captains were Lowell Douce, James Rankin, Robert Kibbey, Kenneth Staats, John Prichard, and Joe Davis. The Welfare Contact team was composed of Philip E. Guthery and Odell Thompson.

President of the C of C is M. Paul Hunt.

There will be observance of Mother's Day at both churches Sunday, the pastor, the Rev. W. F Kissel, announced.

Super Croesus

By Inez Robb

If you had an income of $250,000 per day, or maybe only $1,000,000 per week, what would you do with the residue, after Uncle Sam had taken his cut?

INEZ ROBB

H. L. Hunt of Dallas, sometimes called the richest man in the world sometimes merely the richest man in Texas, and again, only the richest in Dallas, has an oil income variously estimated in the above figures.

A few years ago Mr. Hunt decided to plow at least a portion of his income including that handy 27 per cent depletion allowance; into adult education.

HE BELIEVES national and international issues that Americans must solve are so big and complex that his fellow citizens need help in arriving at the right conclusions.

Mr. Hunt, the multimillionaire almost nobody knows, nurtures another belief equally as important: If the American people are given all the facts, pro and con, on any issue, they will ultimately come up with the right answer.

So, two years ago, a radio program called "Facts Forum," backed entirely by Hunt money, made a modest debut over a few Texas stations.

Today, still backed in large part by Hunt money, the nonpartisan program — vigorously presenting both sides of any question it tackles —is heard on 120 stations from coast to coast.

IN ADDITION, the program makes its TV debut this week.

To run his program, Mr. Hunt recruited Dan Smoot, a vigorous, highly articulate young man who resigned from the FBI to take the forum job. Mr. Smoot became a G-man at the outbreak of World War II, when he resigned a teaching fellowship at Harvard to join the federal sleuths.

"We make no attempt whatsoever to influence public opinion either for or against any issue," Mr. Smoot said. "We give 'em the facts on both sides of such questions as the RFC, UNESCO, or an American blockade of the Chinese coast.

"We conclude each program with the question, 'What do you think?' or 'How do you feel on this issue?' We drop the hot potato in the audience's lap, and the audience has to take it from there.

"We don't care how difficult the question is. We'll grapple with anything."

MR. HUNT believes that no matter how tough the question, the American people eventually have to answer it with 'yes' or 'no.'

The 15-minute weekly air forum has been so successful that listeners all over the nation have organized their own discussion groups or forums in home towns.

So far as its chief sponsor is concerned, the "Facts Forum" has been so successful that Mr. Hunt has invested in a 30-minute simulcast panel discussion every Sunday night in which four speakers —two for and two agin — to at each other hammer and tongs on public issues.

OBVIOUSLY $250,000 per diem or even $1,000,000 per week will go a long way, as Mr. Hunt is planning to back a third educational non-profit, non-partisan radio or simulcast program.

"We are now in the process of putting together a panel show to originate in Washington, D.C. with congressmen from both sides blasting each other on some issue currently before Congress," said Mr. Smoot.

The richest man in the world, or in Texas or in Dallas thinks Americans ought to think things out for themselves.

Mr. Hunt thinks he's getting his money's worth with his programs, and never mind what he thinks personally on any issue. What do you think?

Although not spelled out, this has usually been taken to mean three miles except on the gulf coasts of Texas and Florida, which claim 10½ miles.

May Ask U.N. Intervene In Laos Invasion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is consulting with several Allies on a possible appeal to the United Nations for action in dealing with the Communist-led invasion of Laos.

Dulles noted that France, Thailand and the three associated states of Indochina were involved in the new Southeast Asia crisis.

"We are in conversation with all those countries with reference to possible United Nations actions," the secretary told the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The attack on Laos, Dulles testified, "does not even pretend to be a revolutionary effort but is straight military aggression."

He testified that a successful extension of the attack against Thailand would mean a threat to Burma and Indonesia and might make the future of Japan "extremely precarious."

French Await Attack On Laos Capital

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — French and Laotian patrols swept in a wide arc around the royal residence city of Luang Prabang in Laos today but failed to contact any Communist - led Vietminh troops.

The calm on the Laos invasion fronts indicated the Vietminh is awaiting fresh supplies and is regrouping its forces before making an onslaught on Luang Prabang or Vientiane, the official capital.

Driver Jailed On Driving Charge

Howard A. Layman, 37, of near Gambier was sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail when he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Tuesday to a charge of drunk driving.

He was arrested by a state highway patrolman at Routes 23 and 98 at 2:28 a.m. Monday. In addition to the jail term he was also fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

A plea of guilty to a charge of being in physical control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated cost Jack Napper, 24, of 275½ Davids St. A fine of $100 and costs in Municipal Court Monday. Napper was arrested by the state patrolmen at 1:41 a.m. Sunday on Route 4 south of Marion.

Buying the Pants

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The man still wears the pants in the average American home—but it is the wife who picks the kind he wears.

"My husband simply hates shopping," she says smugly. "He'd never buy a new suit unless I went along with him."

I don't like to destroy any woman's illusion, but a wife who holds that idea is simply kidding herself. Most men love to go shopping and buy purty things to hang upon themselves and cloak nature's errors. Neither sex has a corner on vanity.

But it is a mistake for a wife to think he brings her along on a suit-buying safari because he is color-blind or she has superior taste. He is simply afraid to go it alone. He wants her for the same reason he would like her by his side if he had to go into a lion's den—for protection. For her fighting qualities, if real trouble breaks out.

By himself a man has the same resistance against a clothing salesman a worried worm has against a hungry robin. He doesn't know which way to turn. He buys what he doesn't want because he becomes frantic and can't say "no."

Normally you can't blame this on the salesman. He's no spider, spinning a web of words to trap your pocketbook. He's just a plain, God - fearing, Debt - owing, horse-playing, wife-listening fellow who earns an indoor living as he listens to his foot arches slowly crumble through the years.

No, it is a man's own fault if he buys the wrong suit. The reason he does it is because he is frightened. He has been afraid of clothing stores since childhood. Here is how it all began:

You are a little boy, and your mother takes you to a store to buy you a new suit. You and your mother are all alone in a strange new world, where a big tall strange man pats you patronizingly on the back and says, "so this is the little man, eh?" And you look around and all you can see is row on row of little suits hung up on racks like headless children your own age.

You feel uneasy. You run up to a mirror and peek in and see three boys instead of you. One boy is you. Who are the other two? You have never seen a three-way mirror before.

Fascinated; you turn around and around and discover all three boys are you. But you have never seen yourself this way before. Your profile is a stranger. Is this the way you look to other people? it depresses you. You make a face at your reflection — and get three faces back.

While you are still gloomy over discovering you have three faces instead of the one you are used to, you hear the tall strange man say firmly:

"I think this one was made for him!"

"Well, I don't!" says mother sharply, because she is tired.

Oh, oh! Mama and the tall strange man are fighting! Will he hit her? If he does, can she whip him? She is awful strong, but he is awful big. What can you do to help mama? Bite the man in the leg?

Terrified, you run your eyes down the rack, pick out a suit you had liked when you first came in, and say:

"Please, mama, I like this one!"

Well, the sharp words end. Mama smiles, the big strange man smiles. You get a nice new suit, instead of being hung up on the rack yourself—as you had feared.

But all your life you still have deep in you your childish dislike of the three-way mirror for showing you to yourself as you really look, and your fear of the tall strange man.

That is the secret reason why a man takes his wife along when he buys a new suit. For the comfort of her presence—not the surety of her taste.

So face it, ladies. When you go into a clothing store with the man you're married to, it isn't your husband you're with. You are simply leading by the hand his mother's small boy, secretly as confused as ever.

DUKE'S A "DAB HAND." Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth, ends final flight tests at a Royal Air Force airport in London before winning his prized RAF wings in a private ceremony in Buckingham Palace. His instructor said the Duke has a natural aptitude for flying—"He's a dab hand."

May Day Held By Students At Caledonia

Elementary Pupils Present Program In New Gymnasium

The first in what is hoped to be a yearly May Day program was presented by Caledonia Elementary School pupils at the new gymnasium Friday afternoon. Approximately 350 persons watched the activities, which were under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Showers, school music instructor and accompanist for the program.

Students from the kindergarten through sixth grade classes, participated in the processional and recessional for the school queen and the musical program which followed.

Caroline Foos, sixth grader, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Foos, of near Marion, was crowned May Day queen. She was elected earlier to reign over the festivities.

The queen's court was comprised of: Jeanne Sickel, morning kindergarten; Christina Midlam, afternoon kindergarten; Gloria Clark, first grade; Judy Claytor second; Dixie Middough, third; Barbara Kaelber, fourth; Janice Hickok, fifth; Barbara Brooks, sixth. Flower girls were Betsy Clark, Jean Ann Showers, Joyce Anderson and Catherine Andresz.

TWO OF THE QUEEN'S flower girls are shown above. They are Betsy Clark and Jean Ann Showers. Mrs. Paul Showers, music director at Caledonia School, directed the program.

Others taking main parts in the program were Flora Mae Fitchner, Tommy Lyon, Sandra Cochran, Larry Morrow, Sherrill Wells, Glenda Hipsher, Teddy Brown, Susie Caskey, Karen Witzel, Sherrill Laubner, Deanna Douce, Carolyn Coulter, Jerry Reamsnyder, Rosemary Cochran, Janet Anderson, Marilyn Paxton, Jane Ellen Hines and Irene Ross.

Songs and dances were presented by all the grades and May baskets filled with flowers and made by the pupils were given to each mother attending.

McCarthy In New Clash With Editor

Charge Senator With Intimidation Tactics In Commie Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) called a televised windup today to the search his investigations subcommittee has been making into use of Communists' writings in public libraries the U. S. operates overseas.

The investigation brought McCarthy into another sharp clash yesterday with James Wechsler, editor of the New York Post. At a closed subcommittee session, they arranged to make public Friday a stenographic record of their meeting yesterday and a previous one two weeks ago.

Wechsler contends McCarthy is seeking reprisals because the New York Post has attacked the senator editorially. McCarthy says the editor was questioned "not as a newspaperman" but as author of a book used in U. S. overseas libraries.

Today's hearing, McCarthy said, would include testimony from Harvey Matusow, self-styled former Communist who has testified at numerous congressional hearings, and from some authors whom he did not name.

McCarthy contends that "a pattern of Communist subversion" has marked the nation's cold war propaganda program, which includes the libraries designed to provide foreigners with U. S. reading matter.

Wechsler, who says he has been militantly anti-Red since quitting the Young Communist League at the age of 21, has insisted McCarthy called him in a move "to silence independent newspaper comment" through intimidation tactics.

McCarthy has questioned whether Wechsler's declared break with communism in 1937 was as complete as the editor says.

Wechsler told reporters after yesterday's long session that the questioning has been "overwhelmingly" about New York Post policies rather than about his book. He said McCarthy "admitted" that the subcommittee has not yet established that any of his books actually appeared in the libraries.

Wechsler said he again told McCarthy he will ask the American Society of Newspaper Editors to study the case and determine whether the senator has sought to curb freedom of the press.

"He didn't give a damn what the ASNE said," Wechsler added.

The editor said he handed the subcommittee a list of about 60 persons he knows to have been Communists in the 1930s. He appealed to McCarthy in a statement to give the list to the FBI without making it public.

Ducks banded in Nebraska in recent years have been noted as far south as Columbia and Ecuador.

Dairy Cows Continue High Production

20 Herds Average 40 Pounds or More Of Butterfat Per Cow

Dairy cows on test in Marion County continued their high rate of production during the month of April, the county agriculture extension office reported today.

Fourteen herds on Dairy Herd Improvement test and six on owner-sampler test showed production records of over 40 pounds of butterfat produced per cow.

The entire 30 herds on D.H.I. test averaged 1,095 pounds of milk and 41.7 pounds of butterfat per cow for the month. These 30 herds represented 516 cows on test. Some 273 of these, or 52.7 per cent, exceeded the mark of 40 pounds of butterfat. This April production compares to 1,094 pounds of milk and 41.5 pounds of butterfat per cow in March of this year and 940 pounds of milk and 35.4 pounds of butterfat per cow in April, 1952.

There were 23 herds on Owner-Sampler test during the month of April, representing a total of 362 cows. These cows produced an average of 854 pounds of milk and 34.3 pounds of butterfat per cow. Of these, 123 produced over 40 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Following is a list of the herds averaging about 40 pounds of butterfat per cow during the month.

Dairy Herd Improvement:

James Cusick, 22 cows, 1,381 pounds milk, 55.8 pounds butterfat; Richard Lawrence, 21 cows, 1,505 pounds milk; 54.7 pounds butterfat; Z. C. Guardsmen Get Ready for 2-Week Field Training

Members of Marion's National Guard unit, Company "C," 166th Infantry, are preparing for their annual two-week field training period at Camp Grayling, Mich., July 5 to 20.

The unit recently completed its first inactive duty drill and has two more scheduled, during May and June at Camp Perry, before the annual field training period.

The entire company of 47 men and four officers has signed up to attend the field training period. Guard units from all over the state take part in it.

The first duty drill was held April 25 at the company's training area near Caledonia and after meeting at the Armory, guardsmen boarded trucks for the trip. The last six miles were covered in a tactical march in full field pack and with rifles.

At the training area two miles south of Caledonia, the group was given instruction on the occupation and defense of the bivouac area. The rest of the training period was spent in tactical problems based on the squad in an assault demonstration on a given objective. Thirty-eight enlisted personnel and three officers took part in the manuver.

Capt. Robert Canterbury of Columbus, commanding officer of the unit, has announced there are still openings for qualified personnel in key positions in the unit and he invites anyone interested to call at the Armory.

The World Today

Private War Against Ike

By DON WHITEHEAD
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower doesn't know it—but if Lt. Col. Solodovnk of the Russian Army had had his way, Eisenhower most certainly never would have become president of the United States.

The little colonel started a personal war against Eisenhower back in the winter of 1942-43. That was when he advocated firing the supreme commander of Allied forces in North Africa—who was Eisenhower. And he told the British as much.

As everyone knows, the general wasn't fired. He went ahead to lead the Allies to victory in Europe. And, probably to Solodovnik's dismay, he became president.

Anyway, it's a good time to tell the story because it was eight years ago this week—with no thanks to Solodovnik—that Eisenhower accepted the surrender of the Nazis in the schoolhouse at Rhims.

The little Russian appeared in the western desert as a correspondent attached to the British Eighth Army. He filed regular dispatches back to the Russian news agency Tass in Moscow. But it was well known to all of us and to the British intelligence that he was in fact an artillery colonel — not a newspaperman.

The newsmen got to know Solodovnk pretty well. He spoke a fair brand of English and he mixed a good deal with the correspondents who followed the fortunes of the fight against Rommel's famed Afrika Corps.

But even in those days as an ally, Solodovnik displayed a belligerent attitude toward the British and American effort. He poked sly fun at the war in the desert.

One day Col. Philip Astley, the British press officer, brief Solodovnik on details of Montgomery's attack against Rommel just south of Bengasi. Monty had used the Highland and New Zealand Divisions to spearhead a thrust.

For the desert war, that was a good-sized spearhead, although the Russians in those days were using massed divisions in their fighting. When Astley explained to Solodovink the two-division tactic, the little Russian quipped: "Oh, I understand. A patrol action!"

If Solodovnik thought he was needling the British, he was wrong. His crack tickled the British sense of humor so much they spread the story through the Army themselves.

During that winter, the fighting in North Africa bogged down. Eisenhower's time-table for capturing Tunisia stalled in mud and rain and growing German resistance. Solodovnik flew from the desert into North Africa, by British courtesy, to look over the situation.

After a few days, he returned and wrote a long dispatch for Moscow. He presented it to the special censor who handled only Solodovnik's writings. Things began popping. Solodovnik was called into the tent of Montgomery's chief of staff.

Roughly, this was how the conversation went to those listening outside:

Officer: "Solodovnik, we cannot approve this story."

Solodovnik: "But why?"

Officer: "You spent only a few days in North Africa. You had only a superficial look at the situation. Obviously you could not know all the facts. Therefore, we cannot let you send this dispatch saying that Gen. Eisenhower should be removed from his command."

Solodovnik left soon after that. I saw him once in Italy as a member of the Russian mission observing the fighting there. He had been promoted to full colonel.

Then, near the war's end, the Americans and Russians met on the Mulde River in Germany. Russia's Gen. Koniev invited America's Gen. Omar N. Bradley to dinner at his headquarters in an old German mansion south of Berlin.

There on the steps stood Solodovnik, wearing this time the insignia of a major general.

But Solodovnik was cool toward his old companions of the western desert. Maybe he was brooding because Eisenhower hadn't been fired.

PAYS TRAFFIC FINES. Mrs. Lee Maggio, champion of New York City's traffic ticket dodgers, holds on to what money she has left after paying $1,000 down on a total of $3,500 in fines for ignoring 70 traffic tickets in New York. It was her 30th birthday. She has to get the balance up by May 23.

Conference With Ike Successful, Governors Feel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington officials speculated today that President Eisenhower, encouraged by reaction to his special conference of state governors, might call a second one before another year is up.

Both the President and the governors spoke of hopes for future conferences, but mentioned no dates.

There was some guessing also that the President may have helped himself politically. He appeared before the governors twice, had them to lunch, stressed solution of "too long neglected" problems with the states, and won the comment from some state executives, "He spoke our language."

Governors of both parties took the opportunity while here to discuss politics with presidential aides, members of the Cabinet including Atty. Gen. Brownell, and with Chairmen Leonard W. Hall and Stephen A. Mitchell of the Republican and Democratic National Committees, respectively.

Legislature Faces 2-Way Problem

Ohioans Kick on Bad Roads, Also on Cost of Good Ones

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio's average motorist - taxpayer screams whenever he hits a chuck-hole in a broken-down road.

He also screams when he is hit by his share of the tax bill to build better roads.

That, vastly oversimplified, is the nub of Ohio's highway problem.

It is true the great depression of the 1930s and World War II which followed quickly combined to form a long period in which road building was forced to a near standstill.

But it also is true that Ohio legislatures for years have heeded the cries of outraged taxpayers and shied away from new taxes to build new highways or improve old ones.

But in the 100th General Assembly now sitting in Columbus, things are different.

The Republicans who dominate the Legislature insist on providing more highway money. So does Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat. They think the screams from outraged motorists — that's practically everybody — should get as attentive an ear as the screams of the taxpayers. That includes practically everybody, too.

Two years ago, Lausche asked the Republican 99th General Assembly to pass a ton-mile tax law to put the bite on the big trucks. That Legislature ignored him, declared the tax was too complicated, too hard to collect.

When the present Legislature convened, Lausche continued his campaign.

He told a joint legislative session in his "State of the State" message.

"In my opinion, the large cargo-carrying trucks are now being subsidized by the small passenger car operators. The truckers are not paying their fair share of the costs of building and maintaining our highways."

This time his words got a better reception.

The Republicans appear ready to split the cost of new roads about 50 - 50 between truckers and the average motorist.

The House Public Affairs Committee appears ready this week to ask the House to pass a highway-use tax on heavy trucks and raise the present four-cent gasoline tax by a penny a gallon.

The truck tax proposal shapes up as a sort of modified weight-distance tax which, in turn, is a first cousin to the ton-mile tax.

It will be, unless there is some mind-changing at the last minute, an "axle tax."

Without getting too wound up in details, those who suggest the axle tax say it would be a simple tax to report and collect. The legislators are anxious to keep paper- for trucker-taxpayers to a minimum. Under a pure weight- distance tax law, the only way of checking for violations would be to weight the huge rigs. That would be because truckers would pay a tax on their heaviest load in their tax classification.

Under the axle tax, a big truck would be registered with the tax commission for the maximum number of axles it would use in any rig combination of tractor and trailers. Each tractor would be issued a permit stating the top number of axles on a rig against the number stated on the tractor's permit. If the permit reads four axles and the tractor-trailer rig has six, for instance, the trucker is violating the law. His permit could be suspended and he would be ruled off the road.

The last part of the Republican highway program is where the GOP and the Democratic governor reach a parting of the ways.

Their difference of opinion is important.

Lausche favors a pay-as-you go program for highway construction. With presently available road funds plus the money the Republican program would provide, it would take about 20 years to build the roads Ohio needs.

The Republican Legislature seems inclined to let the voters decide whether they want to spread the road-building job over 20 years or whether to do it more quickly.

The GOP plan is to place before the voters next November the question of issuing 750 million dollars worth of state bonds. Sale of the bonds would give the state the money — in combination with local and federal government marching funds — to build the needed highways and ridges in the next 10 years.

It would take 25 years, using all the extra highway money the Republican program would produce, to pay off the bonds.

Invasion Of Locusts Due About May 15

Marion Countians were warned today to prepare for an invasion of 17-year locusts next week. The warning came from T. H. Parks, Ohio State University extension entomologist.

Parks said the locusts would begin their attack on trees in this area about May 15, one week from Friday. Twenty-seven of Ohio's 88 counties are in for the invasion, his warning said.

Delaware and Union Counties were listed among the 17 counties to be hardest hit. Others included Franklin, Mercer, Auglaie, Pickaway, Hamilton, Butler, Preble, Darke, Montgomery, Clark, Miami, Champaign, Madison, Shelby and Logan.

Other counties in this area to be hit by the six-legged pests are Wyandot, Morrow, Crawford, Allen and Hancock.

Parks said that trees set out during the past two-year period and located in or near woods need special care. He said farmers should tie the branches together compactly and cover them with cheesecloth or delay pruning young trees. He also suggested spraying trees with an insecticide called Tepp.

Marion Woman Elected Head Of Ohio Navy Club Auxiliary

Elected and installed commandant of the Ohio Squadron Auxiliary of the Navy Club at the spring reunion of the Navy Club and auxiliary April 25-26 in Lima was Mrs. Isabelle Coleman of Marion. She is commandant of the Marion Navy Club Auxiliary and has served as conductress, paymaster and senior executive officer of the Ohio Squadron Auxiliary.

Others from Marion also were elected to offices in the two groups. Mrs. Margaret Abbott was elected shipswriter, and Mrs. Gladys Vaughan was elected chaplain in the Auxiliary. In the Navy Club, Richard Abbott was named chaplain, Dr. George W. Pfleiderer was named medical officer, and Robert Vaughan was named master-at-arms. John Coleman is pas commandant of the Ohio Squadron.

Mrs. Coleman was installed by Mrs. Valeria Haughn of Marion, national chaplain of the Auxiliary and a past state commandant, assisted by Mrs. Gwen Reverend of Quincy, Ill., national commandant; and Mrs. Mildred Miller of Lima, national paymaster. Another national Auxiliary officer present was Mrs. Mary Turschman of Fort Wayne, Ind., national junior executive officer.

National Navy Club officers present were Harold Haughn of Marion, paymaster, Ralph R. Miller of Youngstown, judge advocate.

Taking office with Mrs. Coleman, in addition to Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Vaughan, were Mrs. Lucille Wright, Springfield, senior executive officer; Mrs. Betty Kiser, Lima, junior executive officer; Mrs. Charis Phillips, Springfield, paymaster; Mrs. Wanda Hawkins, Akron, historian; Mrs. Bess Gallaher, Lima, pianist, Mrs. Helen Cloyd, Springfield, conductress; Mrs. Theresa Kelly, Youngstown; master-at-arms; Mrs. Helena Sekinger, Youngstown, Mrs. Martha Holcomb, Akron, color bearers.

Ohio Squadron Navy Club officers, in addition to Mr. Abbott, Dr. Pfleiderer and Mr. Vaughan, are: B. W. Sheely, Lima, commandant; Frank Bartling, Springfield, senior executive officer; Lester Merritt, Columbus, junior executive officer; William Vogenburg, Akron, paymaster; Ralph R. Miller, Youngstown, judge advocate; Thomas Coneby Lima, historian; Robert Carpenter, Lima, shipswriter.

Two resolutions adopted by the groups were civilian control of our military forces to prevent a drift toward Prussian-type general staff control, and that funds for Reserved Forces should not be cut.

Others attending from Marion were Mrs. Myrtle Evans, Edward McAndrews, Mrs. Camilla McClaskey and Miss Juanita McClaskey.

MRS. ISABELLE COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today that the Soviet Union has 8,300 newspapers with a total circulation of 41,700,000 copies. Among these are many which publish only weekly or two or three times a week.

(The Soviet Union's population was estimated in 1947 at 193 million people. In the U. S., with 157,229,000 people, there are 10,665 daily and weekly newspapers with a total circulation of 71,287,121 copies.)

Civil Defense Program Progressing in Fourth Area

Special to The Star

KENTON—With Ohio as one of 37 states organizing civil defense for mutual aid in any disaster, such work is fast crystalizing in the 23-county fourth area of Ohio, located in the northwestern part of the state, and with its headquarters in Kenton.

Civil defense in a broad sense covers a three-pronged organization devised to give aid to the stricken in event of any disaster, be it a civil matter or if bombings occurr or even if invasion of the United States is accomplished by an unfriendly army.

The three parts into which the aid-in-case-of-disaster groups are divided are local civil defense organizations at the city and county level, the Mobile Support Group now being formed over the area, and the militarily organized and uniformed Ohio Defense Corps All are under direction and command of the Adjutant General of Ohio.

There are 23 counties in the fourth area which is commanded by Col. Cecil J. Davis of Kenton. There are five areas in Ohio, each commanded by a colonel. Headquarters of the areas are: first area, Cincinnati; second area, Columbus; third area, Akron; fourth area, Kenton, and fifth area, Cleveland.

Included in the fourth area are: Marion, Williams, Fulton, Lucas, Ottawa, Sandusky, Seneca, Crawford, Morrow, Wyandot, Wood, Henry, Defiance, Paulding, Putnam, Hancock, Hardin, Logan, Allen, Auglaize, Mercer, Shelby and Van Wert Counties. The area originally included Darke, Miami and Champaign Counties, but those recently were transferred to the first area and Marion and Morrow Counties were transferred from the second to the fourth area.

Basic disaster aid would come from local civil defense organizations of the cities and counties. If the job proved too much for those groups, then will be available the Mobile Support group which would converge on the disaster scene from various spots in the area upon orders from state officials. In case of a more serious condition, either all or part of the Fourth Regiment, Ohio Defense Corps, would be made available by the state.

Civil defense units have been formed in many of the cities and counties of the fourth area and are trained and ready for immediate action.

The Mobile Support group, commanded by Lt. Col. William E. Drews of Lakeview, now is being formed and among many other aids in case of disaster it includes some six rescue trucks, one of which has been placed in the area and is being shown at various cities. These trucks which contain a wide array of tools and equipment needed when disaster strikes, are to be located permanently at various points over the area. The Mobile Support group includes some 857 persons and now is being organized over the area by Col. Drews.

The fourth regiment, O. D. C., was organized about there years ago on a cadre basis on which it has functioned since. It consists of 11 companies with regimental and battalion staffs.

In addition to the military area and regimental headquarters, a civil staff also is in process of being completed.

The Ground Observers Corps also is under the civil defense set up.

In Mobile Support group there is included an administrative section, a technical staff, an headquarters company, a technical platoon and seven operating platoons. Parts of these sections and platoons may be located at different points in the area, and now are being recruited.

Two of the fire fighting sections already have been assigned and will receive fire-fighting equipment, now being manufactured, in the near future. One section is located at Jewell in Defiance County and the other will be in Roundhead in Hardin County.

Included in the Ohio Defense Corps fourth area, 42nd battalion, is Capt. John Peterson, commanding, Company C, Marion.

OWU Faculty Club to Stage Hit Play

"Man Who Came To Dinner" Will Be Presented 4 Nights

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — Students and faculty members of Ohio Wesleyan University are joining forces to stage the Broadway and film hit, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Tuesday in the Delaware Willis High School auditorium.

The comedy was written by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart and includes the song, "What Am I To Do?" written especially for the play by Cole Porter.

Sponsored by the Ohio Wesleyan Faculty Club, the play will be directed by Kelly Danford, a former OWU speech instructor, recent Broadway actor, and present instructor at Ohio State University.

The Ohio Wesleyan faculty is trying to earn enough through the production to sponsor a student scholarship next year. If the play proves successful this year it will become an annual occasion to provide an annual faculty-sponsored student scholarship.

Stuart A. Postle Jr., assistant professor of speech who is president of the Faculty Club, is cast in the leading role as Sheridan Whiteside, the man who came to dinner and stayed and stayed and stayed.

Already Busy Packing Equipment

Harding Students, Faculty To Start Move This Week

Students and faculty members at Harding High School are making preparations for the "big move" from the present building to the new building which is scheduled to begin this week.

"Moving day" will be a four-week long project with loose equipment and materials from the vocational shops to be transferred this week.

Actual moving—originally scheduled to begin today—may not get under way until later on this week, Cecil Gabler, principal, said today.

Packing of some of the school equipment such as hand tools from the shops, and books from the library has been under way since last week, he said.

"Boy and girl" power is being used as much as possible to aid the faculty in the packing project and Merchants Transfer & Storage Co. will perform the actual moving job.

The moving schedule calls for heavier equipment from the print, machine, automotive and woodworking shops, and the library equipment to be moved next week.

The following week, May 20 through 26, laboratory equipment is to be moved, and from May 27 through June 3, teachers' classroom equipment will be moved.

The final two days of the "large size" moving jobs will be used to move records, small supplies and equipment from various rooms and offices.

Meanwhile, schedule for moving of equipment from Vernon Heights Junior High School to new quarters in the old Harding High building is set so that it will arrive after the Harding equipment has been moved out of the various rooms and offices.

Woman Reluctant To Leave Prison

SEATTLE (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Boland was turned loose from the State Penitentiary at Walla Walla yesterday on parole and part of the condition of her being given freedom was that she accept it.

Mrs. Boland, now 55, was sentenced in January, 1946, to 20 years for the second degree murder of her husband. She was paroled in September, 1952.

In March she called Warden John Cranor from a bus depot in Walla Walla asking for readmittance to the institution because she liked the climate in Eastern Washington better. Cranor let her in but the parole board released her again with a request that she please stay away from their prison door.

MASTER SGT. JACK W. GOLLING, right, of Sycamore is awarded the Bronze Star Medal by Col. Frederick C. Gray Jr., inspector general at Headquarters, Far East Air Forces, in Tokyo. It was for meritorious service in connection with military operations as maintenance inspector there.

A Sycamore master sergeant, Jack W. Golling, was recently awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in connection with military operations as maintenance inspector at Headquarters, Far East Air Forces, in Tokyo.

Master Sgt. Golling, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Golling of Sycamore, received the award from Col. Frederick C. Gray Jr., inspector general at Headquarters, Far East Air Forces, Tokyo.

The citation accompanying the award read in part, "Sergeant Golling distinguished himself by meritorious service in connection with military operations as maintenance inspector, office of the inspector general at Headquarters, FEAF, from January 9, 1952, to March 31, 1953. During that period Sergeant Golling assumed technical inspection responsibilities from a major air command level covering U. S. Air Force organizations throughout the Far East theater, including Korea, Okinawa, the Philippines, and the Japanese islands. He displayed exceptional initiative and technical ability in detecting deficiencies in equipment maintenance and operating procedures which were shortening the useful life of equipment, increasing cost of operation, and adversely affecting mission accomplishment. Through his high sense of responsibility and his exceptional technical knowledge, Sergeant Golling was instrumental in detecting these deficiencies, thereby contributing directly to more effective maintenance throughout the command. Through his outstanding

He was stationed at Panama City for several years where he was a technical airplane inspector before being transferred to Tokyo in December of 1951.

Sgt. Golling entered the service shortly after his graduation from Sycamore High School some 14 years ago and has been in ever since. He received his basic training at Maxwell Field near Montgomery, Ala. and spent some nine months in the South Pacific during World War II. He was later stationed at Wilmington, O.

His wife, Dorothy, a Montgomery, Ala., girl, and two daughters, Joyce Anne, 9, and Jackie Lynn, 5, reside there with her parents.

Racketeer Has Fancy Tastes

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a huge double bed with an enormous mirrored headboard, peach satin spread and peach satin pillow covers.

Among other items were a Chinese-painted television set and matching piano; a Limoges dinner set; a sterling silver punch set; and a pair of six-foot-high marble lamps, in the form of semi-nude girls.

Such were the splendors that adorned reputed kingpin racketeer Vito Genovese's nine-room, marble-stained residence at Atlantic Highlands, N. J.

They were all on display yesterday at O'Reilly's Plaza Art Galleries here. The articles will be sold tomorrow and Friday at auction.

Genovese needs $6,000 in a hurry. On April 24 he was given just two weeks to raise that amount in back alimony for his estranged wife, Anna, or face jail.

Experts figure the sale should yield about $10,000.

SENTENCED TO LIFE

WOODSFIELD, O. (AP)—Judge Charles W. Lynch Tuesday sentenced Paul Simmons to life in Ohio Penitentiary and ordered him to spend every Jan. 2 in solitary confinement for 24 hours. Simmons was convicted of the shotgun slaying of Benjamin Shook, 75, last Jan. 2.

April Traffic Accidents Listed in City

Total Is Higher Than in Same Month Last Year

Traffic accidents and the number of persons injured in them was on the increase in Marion during April compared with the same month last year, according to a monthly summary issued today by Police Chief Tom Coon.

The summary shows that 16 persons—eight of them pedestrians — were injured in 106 accidents last month while a year ago six of 10 persons hurt in 78 accidents were pedestrians.

Last month also five persons were injured in collisions between motor vehicles and three were hurt when the automobiles in which they were riding collided with fixed objects. Only other type accident reported last month was of a car going off the road. There were no injuries in that mishap.

The summary also made comparison of the total accidents recorded in the first four months of this year and the same period of 1952. This year there were 398 accidents with 37 persons hurt, an increase of 40 accidents and five persons hurt over last year's totals for the same four months.

However, at this same time last year, one person—a pedestrian — had been killed and this year there have been no deaths. A total of 13 persons were struck by automobiles in the first 4 months last year, while this year that number has jumped to 20 persons struck, with each of the 20 suffering some degree of personal injury, Coon said.

Crime Crusader Hits Jackpot

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The State Legislature's crime crusader, Rep. Robert O. Cunningham, hit the jackpot the other night.

While accompanying police on a vice raid, he shoved a nickel in the slot of a machine which looked suspiciously like an illegal gambling device.

Out tumbled 148 nickels. Did he keep them?

"Sure," said the legislator. "It was my nickle."

Tariff Battle Developing In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move to clamp specific legal curbs on imports of lead, zinc and oil moved into the forefront today in a developing congressional battle over foreign trade.

There were indications that sponsors of a general tightening of tariff and import quota barriers, who say they want to protect American industry from cheaper foreign competition, will push hard for specific proposals in those fields.

Prospects were more promising for a compromise on some other points in a bill by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year beyond June 12 but write new restrictions in it. The act authorizes the President to negotiate with other nations for a mutual lowering of tariffs.

Secretary of the Interior McKay was scheduled to testify before the House Ways and Means Committee today, followed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Already, four high officials have pleaded for approval of President Eisenhower's request for a straight one-year extension of the present act, with no changes in policy, pending an exhaustive study by a special commission of lawmakers and presidential appointees.

Miss Rauhauser to Attend OWU Monnett Program

A special guest at the Monnett Centennial at Ohio Wesleyan University Friday and Saturday will be Miss Pansy Rauhauser, a member of the staff at Harding High School.

Miss Rauhauser, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, will attend the dedication of the portrait of Mary Monnett by Emerson Burkhart, and the presentation of "The Monnett Story," a play written by Edith Burford Kelly.

The play, which will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings in Gray Chapel, portrays the history of Monnett Hall and of the education for women at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Missionary To Speak at Central Church Supper

Dr. Kenneth W. Bonham, a missionary doctor in India serving under auspices of the United Christian Missionary Society for Disciples of Christ, will be at Central Christian Church in Marion Thursday night. He will be heard at a covered dish dinner meeting which will begin at 6:30.

Slide pictures of his work will be included in his presentation when he tells of the needs in the Capital for the Kingdom program of missionary activity. Besides members, friends of the congregation are invited to attend, the pastor, the Rev. Ashley Booth, stated.

In India since 1932, Dr. Bonham and his wife were assigned first to Damoh in Central Provinces where he had charge of the Christian Hospital during his first term of service. The couple had responsibility for the welfare of a large family of boys in the Boys' Boarding and Industrial School.

Because of war-time restrictions, the Bonhams, with their two small children, could not return at the of Marion, Tuesday. The Newark, O., soldier was picked up by patrolmen about 3:10 p.m. Tuesday as he was hitchhiking near radio station WMRN. He was enroute back to the base, patrolmen reported. The serviceman was taken to Marion County jail where he will be picked up by the provost marshal from Ft. Custer.

New Teachers Employed By School Board

Resignations Of Others Accepted At Monthly Meeting

Two elementary teachers were employed, several resignations accepted and reports of elementary principals presented at a meeting of the board of education Monday night in the school administration building.

Announcement was made of the opening of bids for certain types of seating equipment for the new Harding High School at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the school administration building.

Upon the recommendation of Supt. Lester L. Dickey, two elementary teachers were employed. They are Miss Helen Morgans of Liberty, N. Y. and Mrs. Barbara Purvis of Marion.

The following resignations were accepted: Miss Ruth Schertzer, North Main Street School; Mrs. Eileen O'Hara, Mark Street; Mrs. Clara Stair, Pearl Street; Mrs. Zoe Ann Behm, junior high vocal music; Mrs. Ruthann Hinamon, commercial instructor at Harding; Mrs. Mary Ellen Tewalt, secretary at Edison Junior High. Resignations of Mrs. Maryellen Griffiths and Mrs. Irene Moore, who have been on leave of absence this year, also were accepted.

Retiring this year is Miss Jeannette Turner, who has been on the staff of the Silver Street School since entering the city school system in 1912.

Teachers were re-employed for the coming school term. The board meeting was held earlier this month due to the annual PTA Council installation and meeting next Monday night.

Reports of grade school principals presented at the meeting were as follows:

Mrs. Violet McBride of Oakland and Olney Schools, gave a comprehensive report on elementary curriculum explaining the recent trend in academic teaching and the expansion of the program by special services such as physical education and speech therapy. She also had for exhibit text books in current use.

Floyd Hofacker, principal at Glenwood, reported on neighborhood projects, stressing the values of integrating school and community interest. The Glenwood Booster Club and PTA have assisted the school in a varity of ways, his report brought out.

The general value of PTA and a report on last week's district PTA workshop held at Worthington served as the basis for Paul Bingman's report. He also gave the board members a review of teachers' reactions to BIE Day's visitation to industry. He is principal at the Mark Street building.

Miss Clara Alice Wilson, principal at Pearl and Greenwood buildings, reported on the planning, conduct and results of the audio visual conference which served as an in-service training program for 150 local teachers.

James Hill of Silver Street, stressed the growing need for safety regulations and explained how the schools attempt to aid parents and city officials in the enforcement of safety measures.

Miss Helen Hutchins, director of school lunchrooms, gave each member a mimeographed report of her work. In the report she explained plans for expanding lunch room service to elementary schools next fall and made valuable suggestions for long range planning in her department. Since 1950 to April 1 this year, 79,000 type-A meals and 326,000 bottles of milk have been served in the local schools. Miss Hutchins supervises 24 women, three adult cashiers, three student cashiers, two grade school lunch rooms, 24 student assistants and 10 elementary milk programs.

Donald Farrar principal at Oak and North Main Schools, summed up the situation in his report subtitled "The Marion Schools as they impress a newcomer." He pointed out the values of working in a democratic-managed school system and acknowledged help given new teachers in the fall workshop and through the orientation committee.

Miss Philomen Gregg, principal at Forest Lawn and George Washington buildings, who served as

Extend Kenton, Lima Sewage Dumping Permits

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board today granted sewage discharge permits to 15 municipalities and two county sewer districts.

Along with the permits the board laid down specific requirements for anti-pollution steps to be taken during the life of the permits.

The permits granted included:

Kenton—To Oct. 1, 1953; complete revision of detail plans and award contracts for construction of dewage treatment plant.

LIMA—To Oct. 1, 1954; complete construction of new sewage treatment works for which contracts already awarded.

McGuffey—To Aug. 1, 1953; to complete rehabilitation of existing sewage treatment works.

LaRue Schedules Annual Banquet

Special to The Star

LARUE—Mrs. Johanne Kristine White of Columbus, a native of Denmark, will be the guest speaker for the Community Mother and Daughter banquet Thursday night. The annual event is sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service and will be held in the annex of the Methodist Church. he banquet, a basket supper, will be served at 6:30 p.m. with rolls and coffee furnished by the sponsoring group. All women and girls of the entire community are welcome.

Following the banquet, the program will be presented in the sanctuary of the church and will open with the worship service conducted by Mrs. Sam Wood of the LaRue Baptist Church. The welcome will be extended by Mrs. Ivah Owen, president of the WSCS, and a response in behalf of the daughters and guests will be spoken by Rose Ann Murphy.

The two vocal selections will be given by Mrs. William Stanbro, and a playlet, "A Message for Mother" will be presented by the girls of the Sunday School classes of Mrs. Bernard Littell, and Mrs. Robert Hougendobler. Elizabeth Trihaft will also sing a selection.

Mrs. White, the speaker will be dressed in the native costume of Denmark and will tell very interesting facts about her homeland. The prayer to close the program will be given by Mrs. Sheldon Kramp.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

At a recent meeting of the Unity Bible Class Wesley Methodist Church, business included making a contribution to the church mimeograph fund. Devotions were by Mrs. Fred Upton. Poems were read by Mrs. Frank Marsch, Mrs. Charles Clark, and Mrs. James Barkley. Guessing box award went to Mrs. Marsch, and a guessing contest was won by Mrs. H. C. Wendler. Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Herron, Mrs. C. J. Eddy, Mrs. Darius Moore, Mrs. M. E. Kates, Mrs. Reed Stevens, and Mrs. Alberta Nash. The next meeting will be the annual banquet at the church, May 26, with a memorial service included.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Little was accomplished today in the stock market in quiet trading at steady prices.

The vast majority of price changes were in the smaller fractions with many issues refusing to budge from their previous close.

Volume dwindled to a rate that had difficulty in passing the million share mark. Tuesday's total came to 1,290,000 shares.

Higher stocks included Union Pacific, Gulf Oil, American Telephone, Union Carbide, International Paper, General Motors, and Lockheed.

Lower were Southern Railway, Eastern Air Lines, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, Republic Steel, and Goodrich.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio. Cause No. 19383.

Ray R. Bishop, Plaintiff, vs. Paul E. Piersol and Mary G. Carter, Defendants.

Paul E. Piersol, residing at Hillcrest Road, Route 7, Dallas, Texas, and Mary G. Carter, residing at 142 South Adams Street, Apt. 12, Glendale, 5, California, will take notice that on the 5th day of May, 1953, plaintiff filed his Petition in the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, in the above entitled cause, by which petition plaintiff seeks to register the title to the following described premises, in devisees of deceased registered owner, Lora D. Piersol Bishop, to-wit:

Situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion and State of Ohio and known as being the undivided one-half (½) interest in and to Lot Number Fifty Nine Hundred and Eighty Six (5986) in the Stoltz-Scofield Land Company's Second Addition on Scofield Heights as shown on the recorded plat of said addition.

The petition prays the Court to determine the persons to whom title to said land passed and vested at decedent's death, and that the same may be ordered registered accordingly, as provided by law.

Said defendants are required to answer, demur or otherwise plead to said petition on or before the 4th day of July, 1953, or said petition will be taken as true and judgment rendered accordingly.

Says Phillies Can't Keep Up Present Pace

Writer Gives O'Neill Little Chance At National League Flag

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The question being asked most frequently at this early stage of the National League race is, "Do you think those Phillies can do it with Roberts and Simmons?" Our answer, after considerable thought and study, still is "No."

For one thing, the Philadelphia writers who know Steve O'Neill's club best, are as cautious as men threading a minefield. Their estimates of what will happen when the chase settles down and the days are filled with hot doubleheaders are studded with "ifs." They concede that three or four Phils are hitting far over their heads.

Secondly, there is no evidence thus far that Steve has a pitcher or two capable of taking the fierce pressure off his two great youngsters, Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons, and the able veterans, Karl Drews and Jim Konstanty. Steve thought he had such pitching support when he let Russ Meyer go during the winter.

Thirdly, the Quakers have done everything they could possibly have hoped to do up to this point—both their pitching and hitting have bordered on the sensational—and they haven't been able to open daylight between themselves and Brooklyn. That must be a trifle disheart enin gltn hbakc e. ohre disheartening. In the back of their minds, too, must be the memory that they finished last season at a 59-30 clip after O'Neill took over, yet wound up fourth. If there is such a thing as the law of averages, it is about due to start running against Steve's boys.

A "two-man" pitching staff such as Roberts and Simmons represent in the popular mind is a risky proposition. If either of them is injured or suffers from a sore arm for a week or two, there can go the flag.

No matter how well Jim Konstanty has done as a starter—and he did deliver an amazing two-hitter against Pittsburgh—the Phils would be a great deal more dangerous, in our opinion, if the old schoolteacher were able to operate exclusively from the bullpen, as he did in 1950. A flag winner these days must have that stopper who can come in 40 or 50 times if necessary in the late innings. He is a product of the lively ball.

It appears certain that both Simmons and Roberts, providing they remain in robust health, will rack up better than 20 victories. For the sake of argument, give them 50 between them. It still would not be enonugh to stand off Brooklyn's great depth of pitching and superior all-around strength unless both Drews and Konstanty surpass themselves.

The Army's tank-infantry combat course teaches tankers and infantrymen to co-ordinate firepower, assault tactics, and effective communications and defensive measures against counter-attacks.

LEGAL NOTICE

"Notice is hereby given that on April 3, 1953, The Ohio Fuel Gas Company filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, a complaint as to certain of its rates for natural gas now in effect in the following Ohio communities: Big Prairie, East Greenville, Kirkpatrick, Lakeville, Leesville, Little Sandusky, Monnette, New Pittsburgh, New Winchester, Pavonia, Pleasant Home, Red Haw, Reedsburg, Rowsburg, Windsor and Wyandotte. The new rate proposed by said company for a period of two (2) years is as follows:

For a period beginning with the periodic meter readings taken on or after the effective date of this rate and continuing therefrom for a period of Two (2) Years:

Thirty Cents (30c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the first 500 cubic feet used through each meter each month;

Six Cents (6c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 4,500 cubic feet used through each meter each month;

Six and one-half Cents (6½c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 95,000 cubic feet used through each meter each month;

Six Cents (6c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for all in excess of 100,000 cubic feet, used through each meter each month;

A Minimum Charge for each customer each month of One Dollar and Fifty Cents ($1.50) shall be made;

A Delayed Payment Charge of five per cent (5%)) but which in no instance shall be less than Ten Cents (10c), shall be added to the above charge if the bill for the monthly reading period is not paid within the time prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Company

From and after the expiration of the aforesaid two year period and for a further period of Two (2) Years thereafter;

Thirty Cents (30c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the first 500 cubic feet used through each meter each month;

Six and one-half Cents (6½c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 4,500 cubic feet used through each meter each month;

Seven Cents (7c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 95,000 cubic feet used through each meter each month;

Six and one-half Cents (6½c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet, for all in excess of 100,000 cubic feet used through each meter each month;

A Minimum Charge for each customer each month of One Dollar and Fifty Cents ($1.50) shall be made;

A Delayed Payment Charge of five per cent (5%), but which in no instance shall be less than Ten Cents

Tribe Blows Chance at First Place, Blasted By Yanks, 11-1

Lopez Calm; Indian Fans Try to Forget

Hoskins' Mound Debut Only Bright Spot for Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Thousands of spectators tried to blot out of their minds today a pretty gruesome sight: The Yankees heartlessly blasting the Indians.

In fact, most of the 28,383 at the stadium at the beginning last night weren't there when it finally mercifully ended, 11-1, in the Yankees' favor.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez took it all pretty calmly, and said he still didn't think the Yankees were any tougher than last year.

"I know it was a dull game after that fourth," he said, "but I'd just as soon lose one like that as blow a tight one. It's just one loss no matter how you figure."

"That fourth" was the inning in which the Yankees scord eight runs, six off starter Bom Lemon and two off his relief, Al Aber. Not one of the seven Yankee hits was a homer, either.

"They got some good hits and some scratches in that big inning," Lopez said thoughtfully. "A few inches here or there and Lemon could have been out of it with little damage.

"I guess Aber was a little nervous. Couldn't seem to find the plate."

It was a hit-for-hit game until then. After that, the Indians just didn't have a chance against the unbeaten Whitey Ford. Only Wally Westlake's homer in the eighth inning prevented a shutout. Westlake entered in the fifth to sub for the slumping Larry Doby.

The only other bright spot from a Cleveland fan's point of view was the debut of Dave Hoskins on the mound. He held the Yankees to one hit in the last four innings and retired the last 10 batters.

ON POW LIST

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — Ralph L. Hartman of Georgetown, O., was on the list of 76 American prisoners of war met by Cpl. David W. Ludlum of Fort Wayne, Ind., while in Communist prison camps. Ludlum brought the list back in a small notebook.

Red Sox Only Half Length Back in Third

Rain Washes Out Games Scheduled In National League

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

Until last night the Cleveland Indians hadn't met the New York Yankees this season. Today they were wishing they had let well enough alone.

The Yankees limped into Cleveland yesterday feeling mighty low. They were at the end of a rough six-game Western road trip during which they had had to scramble to break even against second division teams. Their pitching staff was shot. The hitters were hitters in name only.

The clubs were tied for the league lead. This was the big chance for Cleveland to take over. At least that's the way it looked to the Indian fans.

Well, the Indians blew it, but good. They got whopped 11-1. It was their worst licking this season.

Bob Lemon, Cleveland's best, dueled Whitey Ford. Casey Stengel's desperation hope, on even terms for three innings. Then came chaos.

Thirteen Yankees went to bat in the fourth. Seven of them singled, two walked, one got hit and eight scored. While the New Yorkers were still parading monotonously to the plate, Lemon was taking a shower. He had failed for the second straight time.

Just to make sure that it wouldn't be close, the Yankees added three more runs in the fifth inning on a pair of singles and two walks. These were strictly unnecessary since the Indians couldn't do a thing with Ford until Wally Westlake came through with a bases-empty home run in the eighth.

So the Indians, who went into the one-game series in an exact percentage tie with the Yankees, came out trailing by a big game and a half—the Yanks have played and won three more games—and with the onrushing Boston Red Sox only half a game back in third place.

Boston took over third by whipping the Chicago White Sox, 5-1.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

'We're a little disappointed with the primary election here Tuesday. The election created very little interest among Marion voters and robbed us of an enjoyable evening as well.

First off we were forced to miss the broadcast of the first meeting this season of the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees. The heartbreaker, however, was in missing the annual press-radio party of the Beulah Park Jockey Club at Grove City.

SHORT

Through a mixup in scheduling, the track officials set the party for election night, forcing the absence of many newsmen, who drew election coverage assignments.

The Beulah Park party is one of the highlights of the year for central Ohio sports writers. It compares favorably with the party thrown annually by the Little Brown Jug Committee at Delaware.

Last night's meeting was held for the purpose of giving the writers and broadcasters a preview of the plans for this summer's meeting. Track officials are always on hand with a full load of food, refreshments and information.

SPEAKING OF RACING, the most amusing incident we've heard on last Saturday's Kentucky Derby concerned a Marion resident.

After bucking the crowds at Churchill Downs and walking away with a chunk of the track's money, the man returned home over the week end. Monday night, the door to a Main St. establishment flew open and in rushed the Derby visitor. He rushed up to the bartender and requested the television set be turned on. "I was there and I want to see how that d- - - - race came out," he said.

THE PAYOFF. Katy Cafagno and Floreine Clark, are wearing smiles just a little broader than usual this week. They were proudly displaying a check from the Ohio Women Bowlers' Association as their cut of the prize money in last winter's state tournament at Ashtabula.

The women, both avid keglers, copped 90th place among the doubles events. The No. 90 spot was good enough to earn each of them $10. The local women bowled during February.

BASCOM WEEPS. Wes Bascom of East St. Louis, Ill., weeps in the arms of his trainer, Ted Mills, after a fight in Milwaukee, Wis. with Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia. The bout was stopped in the seventh round by Referee Ted Jamieson. Bucceroni, fourth-ranked heavyweight, had knocked out Bascom's mouthpiece before the fight was stopped. The announcement brought so much booing from 4,454 fans that word on time on the end of the scrap had to be delayed.

DIES IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—Police are seeking relatives of John Maley, 74, St. Marys, O., who collapsed and died of a heart attack after alighting from a train in Union Station Tuesday.

Sugar Ray Would Return to Ring If Title Leaves U.S.

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, retired middleweight champion, said today he would go back into the ring if the crown left America.

"I'm not planning to go back to boxing, you understand," Robinson told a reporter, "but I would if my friends wanted me to and especially if the crown left the country."

But he denied reports he is planning a ring comeback. Robinson is appearing in a Columbus night club.

County Track Meet Set For Friday

The Marion County high school track meet will be held Friday afternoon at Harding Stadium. Field events are scheduled to get under way at 12:30 with running races set for 2 p.m.

Approximately 175 boys are expected to compete. Qualifying events were held Tuesday night at Prospect. All 11 schools in the county system will be competing.

Morral has been installed as favorite in the high school division while Prospect's junior high school runners are expected to walk away in their division.

Merton B. Porter has been named starter for the events and Ivan Barnhart, assistant county school superintendent, will serve as chief timer.

A spokesman for the county teams said several new records are expected to be set.

24 Per Cent Drop Reported In Attendance

Four Clubs Show Increase at Gate, Others List Decrease

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league magnates have been bemoaning the drop in attendance this season, and they've good reason.

Whether it's been television, the inclement weather or a combination of both, the fact remains the big league ball fan just isn't showing up as often as he used to.

An Associatd Press survy disclosed today that attendance at major league parks is 24 per cent under last season's total in a comparable number of home dates for each club.

Paid admissions for 1953, through last night's games, totaled 1,373,984. Last year it was 1,802,729. That's a drop of 428,745.

The American League has been hit the hardest. It has had an attendance of 667,861 as compared with last year's 1,020,562. Net loss: 352,701 (35 per cent).

The National League with 706,123 is almost 10 per cent below its 1952 total.

The transplanted Milwaukee Braves, up 38,509 in two games, are one of four clubs to show an increase at the gate. The others are the Philadelphia Athletics (9,250), the Philadelphia Phillies (5,114) and the Cincinnati Redlegs (2,608).

The Detroit Tigers, American League cellar dwellers, are more than 100,000 admissions behind their 1952 figure in their first 14 home games. They drew more than a million with an eighth-place club last year.

The Cleveland Indians are 67,325 in arrears and the Chicago White Sox, 66,684. Brooklyn is behind 53,916; the Boston Red Sox, 41,342; the World Champion New York Yankees, 37,512; the Chicago Cubs, 30,991 and the St. Louis Browns, 30,751.

The other clubs have suffered less heavily. Pittsburgh is 18,220 under its 1952 total in a comparable number of games. Washington has dropped of 18,170 admissions. The St. Louis Cardinals, 12,901 and the New York Giants, 6,247.

Weapon Against Champ

Joe Walcott Eyes Use Of Hit and Run Tactics

CHICAGO (AP) — The suspicion is growing that Jersey Joe Walcott will flit through the greatest boxing ballet of his career in his attempt to dethrone Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano.

It was with the disdain and pride of a champion that Walcott waded into an upstart Marciano at Philadelphia last September in a tremendously thrilling bout that ended in a stunning 13th round knockout of Jersey Joe.

Now Jersey Joe knows differently. Rocky can be hit but not hurt.

He won't say so, but everything about his preparation for his May 15 return bout with Marciano at Chicago Stadium indicates that Walcott is ready to hit and run—as only this remarkable ring ancient knows how.

Even without his first-round knockdown of Marciano, Walcott would have been well ahead on points through 12 rounds at Philadelphia.

In the course of his brutal toe-to-toe slugging with the Brockton, Mass., Blockbuster, Walcott got himself cut in the left eye, blood from which he claims blinded him to the 13th-round roundhouse right which felled him like an axed steer.

All these things have been weighed carefully in the Walcott camp, close observers say, and Jersey Joe will be out to dance and jab Marciano into an outpointed loser.

He did this in his title defense against Ezzard Charles, a much younger foe who remembered too much that Walcott carried an explosive punch in their previous meeting, which cost Charles the championship.

Even Walcott's trainer, Dan Florio, admits that if Walcott fights Marciano the way he defended his title against Charles, "It'll be a walkaway—a real walkaway for Jersey Joe."

Harding Wins Final Dual Meet From Newark

Prep For League Meet At Fostoria

Harding High School's track squad raced by Newark for its 34th straight win Tuesday. The Prexies posted a 74-44 victory. It marked the final dual meet of the season for the local thinclads and completed the third straight year without a loss for Ken Somerlot's charges.

Somerlot began drilling his squad today for the Buckeye League meet scheduled Friday at Fostoria and for the district event May 16.

In winning from a strong Newark team, the Prexies scored sweeps in the broad jump and the pole vault to get off to a flying start. Frank Green, Gary Ballinger and Doug Bibler grabbed all three spots in the broad jump and Jack Craft, Ronnie Reed and Max Kaelber did the same in the pole vault.

The win over Newark left several Harding runners with pulled muscles. Chet King and Jack Andrews joined Jack Garver and Larry Clinger in the whirlpool bath.

Harding copped eight first place finishes and tied for tops in the ninth event. Gary Ballinger was the only double winner. He took the 100 and 220-yard dash events and finished second in the broad jump. Frank Green won the broad jump and tied for a first in the high jump.

Winners of single events for the Prexies were Jack Boxwell in the discus, Jack Craft in the pole vault, Fred Price in the mile run, Jim Saiter in the high hurdles and Fred Hazen and Bill Whittington, tied in the 880-yard event.

Dashmen and hurdlers will run preliminaries at the Buckeye League meet Friday at 4:15. Field events are scheduled for 6:30 with finals in the running events set for 8 p.m.

Hornsby Says Redlegs Ready

Meet Phils in Effort To Escape Cellar

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—All it took was one victory to bring out the eternal optimist in Manager Rogers Hornsby, for optimism seems to be standard equipment for any major league baseball pilot.

The Redlegs were rained out of the finale of their series with the Giants Tuesday, which gave Hornsby a chance to pop off about what Cincinnati will do now that it snapped its eight-game losing streak Monday by downing New York.

Ted Kluszwski and Gus Bell were the big guns that day, driving in a total of 12 runs on 10 hits during the day's doubleheader. New York won the opener, 12-4, but dropped the second game, 9-5. It was the Redlegs' third victory in 13 decisions.

Hornsby perked up after that victory.

"Looks like we're ready to roll now that Kluszewski and Bell have started to hit," Rogers smiled.

He added, "There's no question about us being a much better team than we've shown so far. We're going to score plenty of runs, and now more of our pitchers start taking their regular turns, so it won't take us long to move out of the cellar. That's for sure."

Hornsby also disclosed he planned to continue his outfield of rookie Bob Marquis in center, flanked by Bell and Jim Greengrass.

The Redlegs, who now have had 11 postponements in the first three weeks of the new season, are to play the Phillies in a night game tonight.

BOWLING

Action in the Marion Industries League concluded Monday at Marion Recreation with Carrol Reese throwing 251-555. Plant Engineering annexed team honors with 827 - 2388. Tool Room II won the league pennant with a 61 - 41 rating with Production finishing second at 56 -46. Close behind were Accounting, 55½-46½, M. M. Division, 54-48, and Plating, 53-49.

Gene Dietz's 224 and John Kayatin's 608 showed the way in the Mercantile League Monday. Sinclair hit 893 and Marion Auto Finance stroked 2449 to pace the while the Philadelphia Athletics were succumbing to Virgil Trucks and the St. Louis Browns, 2-1, in the other night games in the American League. The A's, who had been third, slipped to fourth.

Washington blasted Detroit, 14-4, in the only day game although each club got 16 hits.

Rain washed out the entire National League program.

Bob Porterfield of the Senators lost seven games on shutouts last season. Yesterday he helped make sure he would get some runs in at least one of his games this year. Coming to bat with the bases loaded, the Washington right-hander slammed his first major league home run. The blow was the big one although the Senators got 15 other hits off Bill Wight and four other Tiger hurlers. Porterfield himself gave up 16, about his usual quota for two full games.

Mel Parnell of the Red Sox won his fourth straight without a loss, the best record in either league, as he scattered five Chicago hits. The White Sox scored only in the ninth when Jim Rivera singled home Sam Mele who had tripled.

Vic Wertz of the Browns took over the home run lead in the American League as he hit his fifth of the year with one man on base. The two runs were all Trucks needed to post his third victory against one loss as he bested young Harry Byrd of the A's in an errorless game.

Yesterday's STARS

Batting—Bob Porterfield, Washington Senators, helped win his own game with his first major league home run, with the bases full, against Detroit. The Senators won, 14-4.

Pitching — Mel Parnell, Boston Red Sox, scattered five Chicago hits in winning his fourth game without a loss, 5-1, the best record in either league.

Big Ten Polled

Reduction In Caliber Of Play Seen By Mentors

CHICAGO (AP) — Lower scoring, simpler formations, overall reduction in caliber of play—that is the somewhat gloomy 1953 football forecast by Big Ten coaches.

Almost without exception, the coaches—in an Associated Press survey—took this view after holding spring drills under the new rules that abolish the two-platoon system.

The one exception was Forest Evashevski, entering his second term at Iowa.

"I think the game will be about the same this fall," he observed. "I definitely don't believe it will slow down or make football less interesting. The players will still run and throw just as much as ever."

Bob Voigts of Northwestern and Michigan's Bennie Oosterbaan feel they may be in a better position for two-way football than some of the other Big Ten teams. Each had unusually small squads last season and many of their players had to work on both defense and offense during scrimmages.

Oosterbaan thinks the new rule will narrow the gap between the superior, loaded squad and the less endowed.

Woody Hayes, Ohio State, says: "I don't expect any new trends this season because coaches and players will have to stick to what they know best and won't be able to try too many innovations."

Biggie Munn, Michigan State—"The new rule will mean a lot less interesting football. You'll see a more limited offense and a poorer defense."

Bernie Crimmins, Indiana—"The relative strength of Big Ten teams won't be affected much. The strong will still be strong."

Ray Eliot, Illinois—"Offense and defense patterns will be simple as coaches try to perfect the material they have."

Wes Fesler, Minnesota — "It's like starting all over again . . . No one really knows what's going to happen under the change."

Marciano Resumes Training Routine

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP) — After a two-day layoff, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano resumes training today for his title defense May 15 against Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago.

Marciano's schedule calls for workouts today and Thursday before leaving for an examination by the Illinois Athletic Commission doctor Friday in Chicago. Then he will return here for more drills Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday before breaking camp for keeps.

VOTE FOR TIDELANDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Republicans Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker both voted for the submerged lands bill passed by the Senate Tuesday.

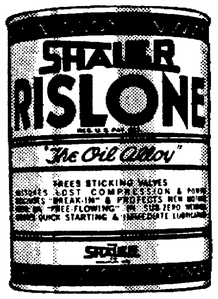
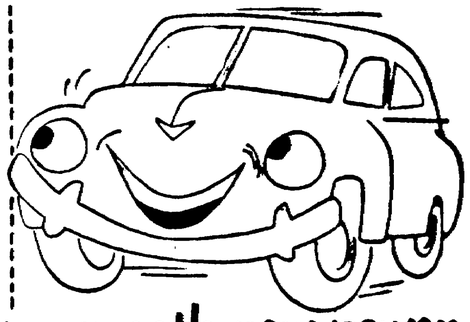
If you want to enjoy smoo-o-other, better car performance—

Put a quart of Rislone in your motor oil!





RISLONE gives you smooth new power in 10 miles—or your money back!

You can actually feel your car run better as Rislone absorbs gum and sludge to restore lost compression and power

Prove it to yourself. Make this money-back test: Ask your garage or service man to put a quart of Rislone in your oil today (2 quarts in larger cars). Drive 10 miles. If you can't actually feel the surge of smooth, new power in your car — you can get your money back!

It's motor magic! And magic you can depend on. Over 20,000,000 Rislone guarantee cards have been given to motorists. Less than 1 in 100,000 has asked for his money back.

That's real proof of the improved performance you get — with cars of any age. For new cars you can count on instant, positive lubrication — extra protection that actually permits normal driving speeds immediately. For older cars you can count on getting rid of power-robbing gum and sludge — quick return to peak performance, and speedy relief for sticking valves, noisy hydraulic lifters.

Remember — you can actually feel the difference as you drive — smooth new power in 10 miles or your money back! Don't wait — try Rislone today.

THE SHALER COMPANY
Waupun, Wisconsin • Toronto, Canada

RISLONE for all engines — automobile, truck, bus, tractor, diesel, stationary, electrical — all power plants.

RISLONE absorbs gum and sludge instantly to restore full compression and power.

RISLONE keeps oil free-flowing for instant, efficient lubrication, even in sub-zero weather.

...and you enjoy faster acceleration. Smooth, new power at all speeds. And quick, easy starting in all weather.

KILLED IN CRASH

CLEVELAND (AP) — Irving M. Shaw, 35, of Akron, was killed early today in a two car crash on Ohio 8 near here.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the matter of the Single County Ditch, No. 430 petitioned for by Gerald H. Ginsberg.

To each person signing or named in the petition and to each other person affected by said improvement.

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 27th. day of April 1953, the above named petitioner filed a petition with the County Auditor of Marion County, Ohio, for the construction and tiling of a ditch known as Branch of the Vernon Heights Ditch.

The construction of the improvement is necessary and will be conducive to the public welfare.

The following is the course and termini of said proposed improvement, to-wit: Commencing at a manhole in the north side of Vernon Heights Boulevard and in front of Lot No. 12618, Vernon Heights Second Addition, thence continuing easterly and northerly in the north side of Vernon Heights Boulevard to Virginia Avenue, thence westerly in the south side of said Virginia Avenue to a line between lots No. 12623 and 12624.

It is claimed that the improvement will affect property owned by you.

You are therefore notified that the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, have fixed the 21st day of May 1953, at ten o'clock A.M., at the upper terminus of the improvement for the view thereon, and have fixed the 4th. day of June 1953, at ten o'clock A.M., at the office of the County Commissioners in Marion, Ohio, for the first hearing on the proposed improvement.

Board of County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio

GOSH—I WISH IT WAS THE LAST PART OF JUNE—
WHY DO YOU LIKE THE LAST PART BEST?
WHY? 'CAUSE VACATION STARTS IN THE LAST OF JUNE — THAT'S WHY—!! YOU'RE LUCKY TO BE AN ORPHAN — YOU DON'T HAFTA WORRY 'BOUT SCHOOL OR VACATION—
HONEST, JACK—ORPHANS AIN'T VERY LUCKY—THEY AIN'T GOT A FATHER AN' MOTHER TO LOVE 'EM AN' FEED 'EM AN' BUY 'EM BIRTHDAY PRESENTS AN'—
JACK DIDN'T MEAN TO HURT YOUR FEELINGS
HONEST, I DIDN'T—I MEANT ORPHANS WAS LUCKY THEY DIDN'T HAFTA GO TO SCHOOL—
ANY KID THAT GOES TO SCHOOL IS LUCKY—AN' ANY KID THAT DON'T GO TO SCHOOL IS UNLUCKY EVEN IF THEY IS OR THEY AIN'T ORPHANS—

FIRST OF ALL, GENTLEMEN, THE AIR FORCE THANKS YOU FOR YOUR FRIENDLY ATTITUDE...
ONE FACT IS BASIC...YOUR TAX MONEY PAYS US TO PROTECT YOU!. THE JET AIRPLANES WE USE TO DO SO MAKE A LOT OF NOISE... WE FLIERS KNOW, BECAUSE THEY WAKE UP OUR WIVES AND CHILDREN TOO...
THE AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY AND THE MILITARY SERVICES ARE WORKING ON A MUFFLER PLAN, BUT MEANWHILE WE MUST INTERCEPT ANY AND ALL UNIDENTIFIED AIRCRAFT APPROACHING OUR COAST, REGARDLESS OF JET NOISE!
WHAT'S THE FIRST THING TO DO, COLONEL?
I KNOW THE ANSWER TO THAT ONE, LEONARD! —MAN THAT GROUND OBSERVATION POST WITH ADULTS AT NIGHT—SO WE DON'T CATCH ANOTHER 'RAID'!

Boston's Old North Church Needs Fixing

BOSTON (UP) —Popularity is wrecking the famed Old North Church where lanterns signaled Paul Revere on his famous ride to Lexington to warn that the British were coming.

Because about 100,000 sightseers visit the 230-year-old Episcopal structure, each year, the wear and tear of their feet is wrecking the building. Serious cracks have been found in the 89-foot steeple.

So the church is appealing for donations totaling $100,000 to make the building safe.
